

Chamber Favors Pay-As-You-Go Income Tax Plan

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the Board went on record in favor of the following Federal Legislation:

Approving in principle of some form of Pay-as-you-go Income Taxes. A Federal Sales Tax. Compulsory Military Training following the winning of the war. That there be no limitations whatsoever placed upon salaries by Congress or otherwise. This country was built upon free enterprise; limitations placed upon what men can earn would destroy one of the freedoms for which we are fighting.

The Board went on record as deploring the number of unnecessary OPA regulations and orders, and recommended that they be reduced and simplified as early as possible.

The Board also went on record as strongly disapproving any further additions in Social Security Taxes during the War.

On State Legislation the Board went on record as against any increase in taxation of any kind, or changes in any of the laws governing pensions at this session of the Legislature.

The Board went on record as follows:

VOTED: "That this Board go on record in appreciation of the Service, William B. Baker, Chairman, his associates and assistants on the War Relocation, and the manner in which they are administering the numerous and increasing duties they are called upon to perform."

Allow Brookline Use of Incinerator

The Board of Aldermen at their meeting Monday night voted to allow the town of Brookline to use the Newton incinerator for burning rubbish at a charge of $1.50 per ton.

Alderman John Temperley, who cast the only dissenting vote, stated that as there is a bill in the Legislature to permit cities and towns to charge for services, he considered it as evidence that it is now illegal for municipalities to do so.

Theodore R. Lockwood, chairman of the finance committee, explained the situation in which the town of Brookline has been placed due to the contractor, who had been collecting the rubbish, quitting the work. He said that the project would not increase the cost of operating the incinerator as the cost had been about $13,000 for 13,000 tons of rubbish.

City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett, at the request of Alderman Charles E. Hughes, ruled on the point of the legality of the acceptance of a fee by the city for this service, stating that it was his opinion that the city may legally charge for it.

The board then passed the order authorizing the Mayor to enter into an agreement with the town of Brookline for the disposal of the rubbish of that town in the Newton incinerators at $1.50 per ton.

To Hold Hearing On March 18th

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen will hold a hearing on the petition of Merrill C. Nutting, Trustee, for the extension of the business district at the corner of Beacon and Walnut sts., Newton Centre, by changing the land on the south side of Beacon st. from the private residence to the business zone. This land extends from 1114 Beacon st. to 1172 Beacon st. and is 1000 feet in depth.

At the same time the Planning Board will hold a hearing on the matter and both recommendations will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen.

Newton Citizens Purchased $5,326,089 Of War Savings Bonds During Last Year

December and January Best Sales Months—Committee Deserves Praise

By ROBERT V. SPENCER

This article has been studied and written in the belief that during the hurly-burly of the greatest military contest in which this republic has ever engaged, it would be worthwhile as a matter of history, and also as a stimulus to continuation of effort, to find out and proclaim the results, so far as they can be known at this time, of the people of Newton's effort toward financing the war on a sound basis. The following figures will show that every man, woman and child in our city who has cooperated in the purchase of war savings stamps and bonds can take just satisfaction in the grand total of our war savings investment for the first full year of war.

The following agencies have very courteously cooperated in the compilation of the figures on which the article is based: Newton War Savings Committee by Mr. Melcher, acting for Mr. Sweet, chairman; Woman's Division of the War Savings Committee by Mrs. Hay, chairman; six banking institutions by the special clerks in charge of war savings; the State War Savings Committee through Mr. Dan Doherty, chairman; the war savings staff of the Boston Postal District, and the statistical department of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston. All figures used were obtained direct from the banks and postal districts and have been carefully checked and rechecked by the clerks who assembled them.

The six banking institutions of Newton sold during the year 1942 "Series E" Bonds amounting to a maturity value of $2,827,050, or $2,120,287.50 cash value. The ten Newton postoffices sold $416,718.75 cash value of these bonds, making a total purchase of $2,537,006.25.

During January of this year the bank sales of series E bonds was $303,710 and the postoffice sales were $37,106.25 making a total of $340,816.25. Since the average monthly sales of these bonds in the city last year was $211,417.18, there was better than a 61 per cent rise over the previous twelve months average. The Boston Postal District reported that its December sales were the highest of any month's figures since the government started selling "Baby" bonds in 1935. Most of the Newton Banks reported that their best month for series E bonds was either December or January.

The Federal Reserve Bank is the only reliable source of information for "F" and "G" bond sales, those sold at face value. The Federal Reserve has reported that during 1942 Massachusetts sold $144,199,000 of these bonds. These sales records are not broken down for separate localities, but it is fair to assume that Newton people and institutions purchased their per capita share, probably considerably more. On a per capita basis, Newton's share of these purchases was not less than $2,500,000. This brings Newton's total war bond purchase in these series to the grand total of $5,042,006. Of course, this total would be upped considerably were the purchase of other federal bonds by our banks for their portfolios added, all of which comes from the money of the people of the city.

All sales of savings stamps are cleared through the postoffices, as all bond sales are cleared through our banks and the Federal Reserve, eventually. During the

Stress Urgent Appeal For All To Aid Red Cross At Kiwanis Club Meeting

Raymond Cabot Presents Interesting Figures and Data—Members Hear Better Business Representative

Mr. Raymond Cabot of the American Red Cross stressed an urgent appeal for support in the present financial campaign at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held last Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Cabot stressed the fact that many women were working long hours on Red Cross work and that now the men were being asked to contribute the financial aid to the end that the soldiers and sailors of America in foreign service may receive the necessary support and assistance that only the Red Cross can give.

Mr. Cabot stated that the Newton Chapter had already been of assistance to 1,320 Newton families who have men at the fighting front. There are more than 3,500 Newton residents working as volunteers with the Red Cross work. On one day through the Newton Chapter more than 1,000 blood donations were given.

Mr. Cabot stated that of the $115,000 which the local chapter hopes to raise in Newton, that $80,000 would go to the National Red Cross for war service and $35,000 would be retained by the local chapter to aid them in their services. The Newton Kiwanis Club have already donated to the Red Cross fund in Newton.

Mr. Kenneth Carr was a guest at the last meeting of Mr. Benjamin Louis and Mr. Rupert Thompson, Secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, also was a guest.

Mr. George Van Buskirk, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, announced that there would be no regular meeting next Tuesday noon but that the local club would hold a ladies' night and Penny Sale entertainment in the evening at 6:30 at the Y. M. C. A. A large crowd is expected.

Mr. William Payne, Secretary of the Newton Club, submitted the report of the Directors' Meeting which was held last Monday night. All monthly and annual reports had been approved and the meeting discussed a comprehensive program of activities which the local club will engage in during 1943.

The treasurer, Leo Noel, reported a balance of over $1,000 in the treasury.

The president, Mr. James Riggs, with self-interest had been of an Agricultural Committee. Members on this committee are Thomas Burns, Leo Noel, Ed Pease and Jack James.

Mr. James P. Gallagher, International Trustee of Kiwanis gave the report on the objectives of International Kiwanis for 1943. These objectives are: Win the war; Serve the count; Build Kiwanis.

Walter Hood and Jack Cable were reported on the sick list. The speaker of the day was Mr. Edward W. Gallagher, manager of the Boston Better Business Bureau. Mr. Gallagher has been connected with the Better Business Bureau for more than 19 years. He stated that the greatest work of the Better Business Bureau was to promote public confidence in business on the part of the public. This was done largely by educational means. He emphasized the work and the value of the American system of doing business and stated that we are inclined to take the wonderful advantages of our American friendly competitive system for granted. He regretted the fact that business sometimes was deliberately misrepresented by politicians and by others either unintentionally or in some cases with selfish motives to be served. He regretted that industry has not been active in selling or emphasizing their side of the story and informing the public of the great debt that it owes to American business.

Mr. Gallagher mentioned the fact that rackets and crookedness were often reported in the paper, but that the great majority of honest business going on from (Continued on page 2)

Refuse Renewal of Salvage License

Aldermen, Despite Plea By WPB, Refuse To Grant It

Although a plea was made by the Regional Office of the War Production Board, urging renewal of the salvage license of the Nonantum Used Parts Co. of Newton, the Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night refused to consider a new petition for this license which was filed by William Shriberg and which had been rejected at the previous meeting.

At Monday night's meeting each member of the board found on his desk a mimeographed copy of a letter from Herbert J. Denner, regional chief of the Scrap Processor's Branch of the War Production Board, urging that the license be granted in the interests of the War effort and stating that it was urgent that the Nonantum Used Parts continue the work of salvaging metal and other greatly needed scrap from old cars.

Acting Chairman Charles E. Hughes of the franchises and license committee, reported that the committee with one dissenting vote, recommended that the board refuse to consider the petition. Under the rules of the board once a petition has been rejected it cannot be filed again during the same calendar year unless the board votes to receive it.

Alderman Kenneth Prior, the committee member who dissented from the majority report, declared that he favored the petition because of the request of the War Production Board. Alderman James P. Akins who also spoke in favor of the petition said that he felt that the plan should be permitted to continue to operate because the chief of police had recommended it.

W. W. Howland Elected to School Committee

Winslow W. Howland of 12 Graydale Circle, Auburndale, was unanimously elected a member of the Newton School Committee from Ward 4 at joint convention of the Newton Board of Aldermen and the School Committee on Monday evening. He will serve the unexpired term of Fitzhugh W. Traylor who recently resigned. Mr. Howland is 36 years old, married and has two children. He was born in Framingham and has resided in Newton for 31 years, was educated in the Newton public schools, and graduated from Bowdoin College in 1929. He is employed as account supervisor for John P. Chase, Inc., and was formerly connected with Hayden, Stone & Co., investment brokers. He is a director of the Auburndale Co-operative Bank and a member of the board of corporators of the Newton Savings Bank.

Blackout Test Called Very Successful Here

Wm. V. M. Fawcett, Protection Head, States Training Aided Efficiency

William V. M. Fawcett, Director of Protection Division, Newton Committee on Public Safety, stated that Newton's participation in the statewide blackout held on Sunday evening, Feb. 28, was in the main very successful. He said that recent training in all divisions was clearly evident in the smoothness with which the various departments carried out their assignments.

Newton sirens worked perfectly in accordance with the Army's instructions, and apparently the coverage was the best to date. The impression prevails that some of the other towns sounded their sirens on the "Green 1" and "Green 4" which is contrary to Army instructions. Newton, however, sounded audible signals only on the first "Green 2," on the "Green 3," and on the second "Green 2." On the first "Green 2" (Blue signal), Newton's three R. C. A. sirens and the auxiliary sirens sounded a steady two-minute blast. The three Gamewell horns sounded fifteen-second blasts followed by a thirty-second pause, repeated for two minutes. On the "Green 3" (Red warning) the R. C. A. sirens sounded the warbling alarm signal, the auxiliary sirens and the Gamewell horns a series of short blasts. On the second "Green 2," the last audible signal, Newton's air raid alarms sounded as they did on the first "Green 2." Mr. Fawcett stated that a few additional auxiliary sirens will be installed to cover the areas not adequately alerted by the present equipment.

The Auxiliary Police, and the "on duty" shift of the Red Cross Motor Corps were completely alerted by telephone on the "Green 1" (Yellow warning). In all other divisions this warning was given only to key personnel in accordance with Army instructions. The first warning received by the Wardens was the audible on the first "Green 2."

Mr. Fawcett stated that the mobilization of all divisions was prompt and complete. The Auxiliary Police manned their Alert Stations promptly and Auxiliary Firemen reported to their fire stations. The Dispatching Posts of the Rescue, Repair, and Demolition Squads were completely manned although no trucks were called out for this alert. The First Aid posts were in full operation, each having its full complement of doctors, first aiders, stretcher bearers, and Red Cross ambulances. The Wardens' coverage was excellent in spite of the fact that the new regulations necessitated a change in the procedure which the Wardens have formerly followed. Under the old regulations the Wardens reported to their posts on the "Green 1" or "Yellow" warning. Under the new regulations, in operation on Sunday evening, they were instructed to report directly to their areas at the sound of the "Green 2" audible. Mr. Fawcett stated that this change in procedure is being reviewed carefully in order that the Wardens' Division may operate efficiently and yet comply with the new regulations.

Under the new Army order householders are required to black out at the sounding of the first "Green 2," audible signal and remain blacked out until the All Clear which is given over the radio. Theoretically the street lights remain lighted until the "Green 3" (Red warning) when they are immediately extinguished. The street lights are again relighted on the second Blue warning although as previously stated, the householders must remain blacked out until the All Clear. Because of some difficulty in extinguishing the street lights promptly on the "Green 3" and the fact that they were not relighted until the "Green 4" (All Clear) made it impossible to determine whether or not the householders fully understood these new regulations. In the main, however, the blackout was good. Those industrial plants under government supervision blacked out promptly on the Green 3 and all others at the first audible.

Mr. Fawcett stated that he believed further practice and some clarification of the new regulations would result in an even better showing by the time of the next state alert.

Mutual Savings Bank Deposits Highest Ever

Deposits in the 191 mutual savings banks of the state have reached an all time high according to a statement by Harrison G. Taylor, president of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. "The deposits of the banks as of January 31, 1943," said Mr. Taylor, "were $2,181,000,000, the highest in the 127 years of savings bank history. The former high point was reached in 1931 when total deposits were $2,159,000,000."

Savings banks, Mr. Taylor pointed out, have cooperated fully in the Government's effort to sell war bonds. All Massachusetts savings banks are accredited war bond agencies for the U. S. Treasury and have sold more than $90,000,000 worth of these bonds. This service is one of the savings banks' voluntary contributions to the war effort. In addition, the savings banks during the past year have bought $162,000,000 of Government bonds and their total investment in these bonds is $965,000,000 or nearly 40 per cent of their total assets.

"These increased savings," said Mr. Taylor, "show that savings bank depositors are not indulging in 'silk shirt' spending. They know that reckless spending can bring inflation and are doing their part to preserve sound America. When the history of World War II is written, the people of Massachusetts will have reason to be proud of their record, for it will demonstrate that their savings made possible a large degree of the purchase of the guns, ships, planes and tanks necessary for the successful termination of the war."

day to day, producing wealth for the American public did not hit the headlines. He mentioned instances of where school books were carrying such statements as the fact that most advertising of American business was dishonest and was used to deceive the American public. He stated that certain groups who would tear down our American system of business and substitute a system which has never been successful, were in back of this move.

He brought out the point that America today owed its present standard of living which is the highest in the world, to American business enterprise. He stressed that in war production America today was producing more than all of the other Allied nations did together, a great tribute to the American business man.

He complimented the retailers on their cooperation and upon the sacrifices which they were obliged to make and were making willingly.

In closing, Mr. Gallagher stressed the fact that the people of America, who were fighting for freedom in all parts of the world must be on their guard and must fight to preserve the American system of free enterprise within the law. He said that the job of the government was to serve the people but not to dictate to them. He said that it was foolish for America to try to replace its present system which has proved the most successful in the world with any other system, which without question would result in failure, a lowered standard of living and many disadvantages.

Mutual Savings Bank Deposits Highest Ever

Deposits in the 191 mutual savings banks of the state have reached an all time high according to a statement by Harrison G. Taylor, president of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts. "The deposits of the banks as of January 31, 1943," said Mr. Taylor, "were $2,181,000,000, the highest in the 127 years of savings bank history. The former high point was reached in 1931 when total deposits were $2,159,000,000."

Savings banks, Mr. Taylor pointed out, have cooperated fully in the Government's effort to sell war bonds. All Massachusetts savings banks are accredited war bond agencies for the U. S. Treasury and have sold more than $90,000,000 worth of these bonds. This service is one of the savings banks' voluntary contributions to the war effort. In addition, the savings banks during the past year have bought $162,000,000 of Government bonds and their total investment in these bonds is $965,000,000 or nearly 40 per cent of their total assets.

"These increased savings," said Mr. Taylor, "show that savings bank depositors are not indulging in 'silk shirt' spending. They know that reckless spending can bring inflation and are doing their part to preserve sound America. When the history of World War II is written, the people of Massachusetts will have reason to be proud of their record, for it will demonstrate that their savings made possible a large degree of the purchase of the guns, ships, planes and tanks necessary for the successful termination of the war."

He mentioned instances of where school books were carrying such statements as the fact that most advertising of American business was dishonest and was used to deceive the American public. He stated that certain groups who would tear down our American system of business and substitute a system which has never been successful, were in back of this move.

He brought out the point that America today owed its present standard of living which is the highest in the world, to American business enterprise. He stressed that in war production America today was producing more than all of the other Allied nations did together, a great tribute to the American business man.

He complimented the retailers on their cooperation and upon the sacrifices which they were obliged to make and were making willingly.

In closing, Mr. Gallagher stressed the fact that the people of America, who were fighting for freedom in all parts of the world must be on their guard and must fight to preserve the American system of free enterprise within the law. He said that the job of the government was to serve the people but not to dictate to them. He said that it was foolish for America to try to replace its present system which has proved the most successful in the world with any other system, which without question would result in failure, a lowered standard of living and many disadvantages.

DO YOU KNOW THE FACTS?

When you give to the Newton Red Cross War Fund this year, what will the $35,000 do in your community? You have a right to know this—they are YOUR dollars and they will be translated into action by YOUR Red Cross. Telling what Newton Red Cross has accomplished in the past 15 months should foreshadow events to come.

Newton Red Cross activities can be divided, roughly, into two classes—service to the armed forces, and service to our own community. All of our committee are giving one of these two types of service—many of them give both. Here is our record:

SERVICE TO THE ARMED FORCES

HOME SERVICE—Acts as a link between the man in uniform and his family back home. Upon Newton Home Service rests the dual responsibility of helping to maintain morale in the service man's home and of supplying to commanding officers necessary information about home conditions. Our 11 volunteers—all experienced in social service and trained in Red Cross welfare policies—have given 1718 hours, aided 1320 families through 2376 interviews. To cite a few specific instances, they have handled 190 furlough investigations, 139 civilian inquiries, 70 military inquiries, and 23 prisoners-of-war contacts. Each of the 1500 men who have left our City Hall for camp has received a letter from Home Service assuring him that "We are ready to help when help is needed."

The following examples show the range of service our Home Service volunteers offer a service man's family:

"Private Z went to his Red Cross Field Director and told him of his worry concerning his wife's financial status. The Field Director at the camp requested us to call on her. We learned that she had been forced to close her little business and home in another state, and come to Newton to live with relatives, where she felt she was a real financial burden. We recommended that she ask her husband to have an allotment taken from his soldier's pay, thus assuring her a regular monthly sum rather than being dependent on his sending money when he received his check.

"From the first call, the worker tried to interest Mrs. Z. in doing some light work that would help financially as well as divert her mind. It was finally revealed that Mrs. Z. was in the greatest anxiety over her physical condition. A year before, x-ray examination had revealed active TB germs, and she had been receiving letters from her former home to report for a re-examination. She had no money to return for the check-up, and feared to tell her relatives for fear they would not want her to continue living with them. Our worker encouraged her to tell her relatives in fairness to them and to herself, and urged her to go to the Newton Hospital clinic for her check up. An early appointment was made and the report came back negative. Almost immediately, she felt better and undertook some light work. Her income from this, together with her allotment, made it possible for her to pay for her room and board with the relatives. At our last contact with Mrs. Z. she had completely gained her mental poise and assured us that she was writing her husband not to worry as everything was all right."

"The foster mother of a soldier in an officers' training camp came to Home Service to see if she could find out when she could see the boy. He had been away for six months, and instead of coming home at the end of his training period had suggested that she make a short visit to the camp. She got her reservation and was all packed for the long anticipated holiday, when a wire came that the trip would have to be postponed as the entire camp was in quarantine. She was bitterly disappointed. We advised her to have her son request the camp Red Cross Field Director to wire us as soon as the medical authorities permitted. She would not cancel her reservation nor unpack her bag, as she was determined to be optimistic. A message came through at seven in the morning that the reservation had been made on the 9 a. m. train. She telephoned the foster mother "quarantine lifted," and the voice came back "and the bag is still packed. Thank you, and goodbye."

PRODUCTION—5,500 volunteers have given 452,977 hours of work in the knitting, sewing and surgical dressings workrooms. We have received letters of thanks from a Newton soldier in Hawaii for the sweater received with the label "Newton Chapter" in it; from a group of refugees in Scotland expressing appreciation for the women's and children's clothes sent them from our Chapter; and from a Newton man, a Red Cross Field Director in the middle East, who said that the first case of surgical dressings he saw on entering the warehouse in Teheran was marked "Gift of Newton, Mass., Chapter." Since September 10, 1942, we have shipped 396,240 surgical dressings to U. S. Army Medical Depots.

BLOOD DONORS—have been making appointments through our Chapter since November 25, 1942—yet in that short time have sent 1350 donors to the Blood Collection Center.

MOTOR CORPS—55 volunteers have driven 19,742 miles, have given 2715 hours—in transporting personnel of the armed forces.

GRAY LADIES—have been on duty at the Brighton Marine Hospital, where 10 members of the corps have given 1542 hours of service. They have been invaluable in keeping up the morale of the hospitalized service man—in making him feel that he is NOT the "forgotten man" when he cannot be on active duty.

CANTEEN CORPS—Members have been on hand at City Hall, no matter what the hour of the morning or what the weather was, to serve the men leaving Newton for camp. They have also been on duty 1728 hours at the Buddies Club Canteen in Boston.

JUNIOR RED CROSS—Has produced, through the schools, 242 articles for the armed forces, 393 gift boxes for soldiers and army nurses and 1500 holiday favors for patients in the Chelsea Naval and the Marine Hospitals.

SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY

FIRST AID—Certificates, standard and advanced, have been given to 5290 people in Newton who have taken the courses under Red Cross instruction, and are prepared to help themselves and their neighbors wherever and whenever necessary.

LIFE SAVING—And basic swimming instruction were given at Crystal Lake and at the Weston Pool, on the theory that "one person taught to swim is a life saved."

HOME NURSING—Has trained 665 women to take care of their own families in time of illness, thus releasing the greatly over-taxed trained nurses in our community for more immediate emergency duty.

NUTRITION—Instruction has been given to 801 homemakers to enable them to gain a better knowledge of food values, in an effort to keep the health of our community at the highest possible level.

SERVICE TO NEWTON HOSPITAL—Has been given by the 99 NURSE'S AIDES who have given 13,727 hours, greatly relieving the overburdened nursing staff at the hospital; the 26 GRAY LADIES who have served 4126 hours in maintaining the morale of the patients; and the 39 NUTRITION AIDES who have trained since December 1942, and are assisting in the preparation and service of food to the hospital staff and the patients.

THE MOTOR CORPS has driven 1,678 patients, and feels amply rewarded by the following letter from the Director of Social Service at the Hospital: "... to thank you for the wonderful service your Corps has rendered the hospital. Truly, I don't know what we should have done without you. Fewer patients have been able to get relatives to bring them to clinics because of scarcity of gas and the occupations of the relatives; our own car and driver have been much more in demand than usual; the bad travelling late in the year has meant that some people have had to be brought who might otherwise have come by bus ... In good and bad weather, on long notice or short, you service us efficiently, faithfully and uncompromisingly."

JUNIOR RED CROSS—Through its own Roll Call was able to contribute substantially to the National Children's Fund, furnished milk lunches for 29 school children, and supplied eyeglasses for 36 school children.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE—Of the First Aid certificates noted above, approximately 3325 were for Air Raid Wardens, Auxiliary Firemen and Auxiliary Policemen. The Canteen Corps has served 1282 meals to these defense groups.

DISASTER RELIEF—Proved its effectiveness in the recent Coconut Grove fire in Boston. The fire started about ten thirty at night. By eleven o'clock the Newton Red Cross had started to mobilize its equipment and personnel. Our ambulance and fifteen auxiliary ambulances were rushed to the scene of the fire, and members of our MOTOR CORPS worked shoulder to shoulder with other relief groups. They gave first aid, took the injured to the hospitals, and transported the dead. The Chapter House was manned by members of the STAFF ASSISTANCE CORPS and HOME SERVICE volunteers, so that all inquiries could be taken care of, and assistance be given to the families of the victims. Members of the NURSE'S AIDE CORPS volunteered their services to the Boston City Hospital and worked there as long as they were needed during the emergency.

The Newton Chapter has developed a Disaster Relief Plan that is being used as a model by many communities throughout the State. The plan can be put into operation immediately should a disaster occur, and will provide for the shelter, feeding, clothing, transportation, registration, evacuation and medical aid of any victims.

Our Canteen and MOTOR CORPS will take care of a mobilized unit and the Canteen CORPS is prepared to feed groups at 10 evacuation centers. Our MOTOR CORP is on 24 hour call at 6 first aid stations, as well as at the Report Center.

This, then, is the factual story of Newton Red Cross accomplishment. The months ahead will bring greater responsibilities, we know. It is squarely up to you to see that we do not fail—give to your Red Cross, and give generously.

A Remarkable Growth

Announcement that deposits in mutual savings banks of this State have reached an all-time high, is not only indicative of the thrift of our citizens but also indicative of the confidence placed in our banking institutions.

Included in this group of one hundred and ninety one savings banks throughout the State are those in our own City of Newton.

As of January 31, this year, the total deposits in these banks in the State totaled $2,181,000,000, a staggering amount. This compares with $2,159,000,000 in 1931.

In addition, these same Mutual Savings Banks have sold more than $90,000,000 worth of war bonds. Also these savings banks have purchased during the past year, $162,000,000 of Government bonds.

As Harrison G. Taylor, president of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts states: "These increased savings show that saving bank depositors are not indulging in 'silk shirt' spending."

Newton citizens may well be proud of the remarkable stability of our savings bank institutions.

Conserving Metal With Wood
In 1942 alone, a staggering total of about 6,000,000 tons of metal will be conserved through the use of wood. This vast conservation program will require about 3,000,000,000 board feet of lumber.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

NOW THAT MORE than a million prime Herenovik lie dead on Russian soil the thin voice of German guilt may be heard above the din of battle.

"Was this war really necessary?" the Muenchener Neuester Nachrichten whimpers in its January 29th issue.

How typically Germanesque! Shades of blasted Rotterdam, Belgrade, Warsaw, Coventry! Memories of Streicher, Heydrich, Ley and Rosenberg!

"Was this war really necessary?" Wouldn't you expect a Nazi—a yellow, badly scared, frustrated Nazi—to ask that academic question?

Nothing so much betrays the change in the German fortunes of war as the half cowardly, half disillusioned, attempts at hind-sight currently indulged in by German leaders.

Things have changed! Eighteen months ago the Germans had reached Moscow, had taken Rostov, and were well on their way into the Caucasus and its precious oil. A year ago Rommel was on the threshold of Alexandria, Suez, and points East. Six months ago presumably the last batch of obstreperous Czech, Polish and Norwegian intellectuals were being lined up against walls and moved down by machine guns.

And today the Nazis are asking, "Was this war really necessary?" The answer would appear to be "Yes", if for no other reason than that a stage in historic development had been reached which would no longer permit hierarchies, such as those contrived by the Fascists, to thrive on the body politic of the world.

INSIDE STRAIGHT: The current Tunisian campaign isn't headed by Rommel. He has been out of Tunisia for the past three weeks. . . . Complaints are being sent to Congress protesting the abuse of the Selective Service Act, the objective of which was the drafting of men for the armed service, but which is now being used to control working hours, manpower, etc. . . . Hitler hasn't been on the Russian front since Christmas. . . . Lindbergh and Ford have parted company again, with the flier expected to take a post with a West Coast concern. . . . Mexico and Brazil will send small expeditions overseas to join the United Nations' forces.

FOR YOUR MENTAL NOTE-BOOK: F. D. R. and Stalin may meet before the end of the year. . . . Political prisoners and non-combatants in Axis-occupied countries are being rounded up with the intention of holding them as hostages to force a negotiated peace. . . . A surprise move will find liquor rationed some time in the Spring or early Summer. Because of the unpleasant experience with the new rationing system during Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek's address in Congress, they may be banned in future similar functions. . . . The new FG-1 being made by Goodyear is rumored to be the fastest fighter plane ever made. . . . Herr Von Ribbentrop's plan to "do a Hess" was nipped in the bud and he is confined to his home.

THE VATICAN is astir and something may soon be expected to issue from the Papacy which will have a world shattering effect. . . . It is possible that papal action will be timed to ante-date United Nations invasion of the continent though, most likely, it will be synchronized with it.

That the Pope has long considered Hitler the Anti-Christ is no secret. The Pope's antagonism toward Nazism traces back to the period prior to his assuming the papacy. Two courses are open to the Pope in the event he decides to come out openly against the Reich. . . . One is to declare himself a "prisoner of the Vatican." The other is to announce himself an "exile" and proceed to either a neutral or United Nations' Catholic country. In the former instance, Italy would be subjected to such intense anti-Fascist pressure as to take her out of the war. In the latter case, the Catholic world, including Spain, Portugal, Argentina, would find itself but compelled to support the United Nations cause.

In either case a shattering Papal Bull would be forthcoming which would denounce Nazi and Fascist ideology and its pagan, racist and totalitarian doctrines.

QUOTE - OF - THE - MONTH CLUB: "The Russians will never learn to fight in the air! It is a manly weapon, a Germanic art of battle!" . . . Adolf Hitler, (as reported in Hermann Rauschning's book, "The Voice of Destruction").

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME: Rabbit meat will be promoted as an ideal nutritious supplement to the diet. . . . The Nazis will make less than 15,000 planes this year as compared to their 100,000 or more which the United Nations will produce. . . . The commander of allied forces in Europe is expected to be a Briton. . . . As when, and if Donald Nelson leaves the WPB he will take over an important Ambassadorship.

REACTIONARY CONTINGENTS in the State Department are not only making themselves felt in the realm of foreign affairs, as exemplified by the pro-Vichy and pro-France developments, they are also taking their toll in the American scene. Newest victim is Herbert A. Lehman, who as "Secretary of Humanity," will have the task of feeding Europe's starving when the war ends. Lehman's troubles with the State Department's professional careerists may force him to resign as Director of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation. As a sop he may be offered the Ambassadorship to Mexico.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Our State Senate

Many of us hear so much about Congress nowadays that we are apt to give too little attention to our own state legislature. So last Thursday, I decided to take lunch with a member of the lower branch and then spend the afternoon with the upper branch of the legislature. It so happened that Mayor Tobin was "throwing" his luncheon for the "boys" down at the Statler and my luncheon-date was persuaded to attend. Our own Senator came to my rescue and invited me to eat with him at the City Club. That was a nice break for your columnist who was later escorted back to the Senate and given a seat on the floor where the proceedings of that honorable body could be viewed to the best advantage. Incidentally it reminded me of the hectic six weeks of the famous Coakley trial in the fall of 1941, when I acted as sort of unofficial postmaster for the Senators and doled out the mail three times a day.

Last Thursday, however, was very serene and peaceful. What interested me most, of course, was the behavior of the fourteen new Senators. They looked good to me. Naturally, I would not care to make any invidious comparisons with the men whom they replaced. It is a fact, however, that some very substantial Senators retired, either to run for higher offices or to accept appointments to state commissions. In a few instances, Senators were either defeated at the primaries or at the election or were sufficiently aware of their weakness and therefore decided to retire quietly.

At this point, a few words may be in order about the Senator who defeated my old friend, Arthur F. Blanchard of Cambridge. Blanchard, rather unique figure in state politics, who has frequently been a thorn in the side of the G. O. P. leaders, went down to defeat at the hands of Edward M. Rowe of Cambridge, who may be remembered as the man who tried a number of times to capture the Republican nomination for Congress from our old friend Congressman Robert Luce of Waltham. Rowe was always too strong for Philip G. Bowker of Brookline, who also struggled vainly to retire the Waltham statesman in the fall of 1940. We will have to give the new Cambridge Senator credit for his persistence. At long last he has arrived. Furthermore, a quick check-up with some of my Senatorial friends indicates that Senator Rowe has made a good start and shows signs of becoming a very useful member of the upper branch. He is chairman of the committee on Education and is also a member of the committees on Cities, Legal Affairs and Taxation. Newton friends of Rowe's might keep these facts in mind.

Now, just a word about our own Senator, Benjamin J. Bowen. I know my readers will be delighted to learn that every Senator, without exception, had nothing but the highest praise for the former chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen. He is making good in a big way. The same sound judgment and quiet efficiency which marked his long service on our Board of Aldermen have already attracted the attention of State House veterans. His keen sense of humor is also in evidence. His committee appointments are a tribute to the man. He is chairman of two committees, Public Service and Water Supply and is also a member of the committees on Labor and Industries and Power and Light. Prior to the luncheon period, I watched the hearing held by Senator Bowen on the Finance Committee. One or two of the speakers would have driven me crazy, but our judicial Senator gave everybody all the rope they wanted within reason. One old gentleman lingered on long after the committee had formally adjourned the hearing. What a break he got!

As to the Senate session itself, there is little to report. It was a quiet day and considerable routine business was handled. One or two Senators made earnest pleas in behalf of their suffering constituents. For example, there was a bill to prohibit gas and electric companies from shutting off service in certain cases for non-payment of bills. The Power and Light Committee had given this bill "leave to withdraw" and one of the Senators made an impassioned plea to overturn this report. This only humorous incident was provided by the lusty-voiced Democratic Senator Stanton of Worcester, who interrupted the proceedings by raising a point of parliamentary inquiry as to whether or not Senator Olson of Middlesex, if he is adequately feeding those four lion cubs which the Boston Post states he recently bought in New York? Needless to state, the Senate President, Jarvis Hunt of Attleboro, ruled that the Senator's inquiry was "not in order." Frankly, it did not seem to me that the other Senators were deeply impressed or amused. After all, part of the day's work involved the State Budget and Senator Stanton doubtless realized that fact.

Next week we may drift over to the House and see what happens there.

Washington — James Aloysius Farley, New York former Democratic National Chairman and ex-Boxing Commissioner, is perambulating through the country mixing pleasure with business. The pleasure concerns politics—one of Mr. Farley's hobbies—and this hobby is mostly concerned with the possibility of a fourth term for F. D. R.

Jim's political travels took him to Uvalde, Texas, where he called on former Vice President John N. Garner, another Democrat who had to give way to New Dealers at the 1940 Convention. Farley also did some missionary work among ultraconservative Democratic leaders throughout the south.

And now there is a suspicion among those close to Farley that the Presidential bug has bitten him badly. A skilful operator, "Big Jim" is probably wondering why he couldn't do as much for "Big Jim" as he did for F. D. R. in '32 and '36. It's a big job and there's a war going on, but Jim is a politician who believes that political strategy if adroitly applied can perform miracles. Others, however, are just as certain that nothing short of a revolution could ever land the ex-Boxing Commissioner in the White House.

In spite of the recent reverses in Tunisia, Axis peace feelers continue to be broadcast steadily. One thing to keep in mind about these alleged peace overtures is that they are intended to help the enemy—and not the United Nations. As in the last war, the Germans realize that they are an eventual military defeat and are trying to talk their way out of it. Nothing would please the Nazis more than to ask—and receive—an armistice now, and with German war industries practically intact, set about to prepare for the next war. In other words to receive a breathing spell for a few years during which another "master plan" could be engineered to eventually win the whole world for the "master race."

Even if Hitler and his Nazi gangsters were to be sacrificed by Germany today, his generals, old imperialists regardless of their political affiliations, would continue to carry on as they did after 1918. So far as the world is concerned they're no different today and won't be after Hitler's downfall than they were yesterday or in the days of the Kaiser. These Prussians are out after the same old "world domination" and while the technique may differ somewhat the aim will always remain the same.

It may be well for all of us to bear in mind during the immediate days ahead that no matter how friendly or harmless any enemy peace feeler may sound, an early peace would favor the Axis. The longer the war lasts the more they stand to lose—and the better the hope for a complete Allied victory and a real and lasting peace.

Senator Wheeler's latest threat to bolt the Democratic Party in '44 received little publicity and caused even less talk in informed political circles. Visitors from his home state, Montana, tell us that back home the Senator is regarded as a Democrat in name only. The party machinery there is controlled by his political enemies and is led by Senator James E. Murray, a Roosevelt man. Montana Republican leaders, including Governor Ford, with whom Wheeler seems to be on very friendly terms, are suspicious that the ex-American First has hopes of leading a third party two years hence. Being too smart to have any illusions about third party hopes, these wise politicians prefer to keep Wheeler fighting his own Democratic colleagues. Fortunately for Wheeler—the man nobody wants—his term has still four years to run.

Savings Bank deposits reach an all-time high!

Not long ago, the Mutual Savings Banks of Massachusetts, in cooperation with the Treasury Department, launched a campaign that pointed out that foolish spending was treason.

They told the people of this state that every dollar saved today is helping to save America.

Did the people do anything about it? Indeed they did! But let the record tell the story. By January 31, 1943, Massachusetts Savings Bank deposits had reached an all-time high. The amount was $2,181,000,000.

That's the greatest record in 127 years!

These dollars are "fighting dollars"!

This new money isn't lying idle in the vaults, Mr. President.

It's fighting for Freedom!

Practically every new dollar deposited in the 191 Massachusetts Mutual Savings Banks has been invested in government bonds to buy planes, guns, ships and tanks for our men in uniform.

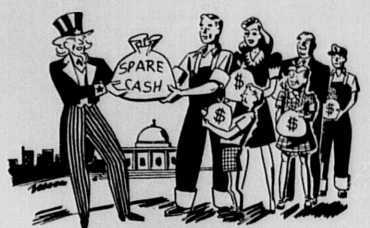

During the past year Massachusetts Mutual Savings Banks have bought over $162,000,000 of government bonds, so that their total investment today in these bonds is over $965,000,000 or almost 40% of their total assets.

Baystaters are working to hold back inflation

Mutual Savings Bank depositors know full well that reckless spending can wreck America. Their savings bank pass books prove that they are not indulging in "silk shirt" spending.

But these pass books tell only half the story! In addition to savings, they swarmed into the Savings Banks to purchase $90,000,000 worth of War Bonds. A magnificent record, don't you think?

The Savings Banks aren't forgetting the future!

They know their job has only begun. They know taxes are going to be greater. So they're doing everything in their power to urge people to make greater savings.

They know more and more men are going into the armed forces. So they're making an "all out" effort to sell more and more War Bonds.

Yes, the Mutual Savings Banks of Massachusetts and their 2,800,000 depositors are doing their part, Mr. President.

An auction and penny sale for the benefit of the Underprivileged Child Fund was presided over by George VanBuskirk, chairman of the Entertainment Committee. The local club is doing much to assist unfortunate and underprivileged children in Newton.

This is a newly established state agency and supervises the boarding of all children up to the age of fourteen. This work is very closely allied with the underprivileged child program which the local Newton club is sponsoring.

Following the auction, dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Red Cross War Fund Drive Off To Good Beginning

Chestnut Hill Exceeds Quota In One Day Drive—Oak Hill Special Gifts Reports 110 Percent Over Its Quota

Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the Newton Red Cross War Fund, reports that $20,000 has come in at the end of the first week of the campaign for $115,000. "We are very pleased at the response of Newton citizens thus far," said Mr. Floyd, "but I want to emphasize again that this is not the usual Roll Call membership drive. It is a wartime emergency campaign, and we are confident that everyone will give as generously as they possibly can so that Red Cross service to the armed forces can go on."

Chestnut Hill workers concentrated their efforts in a one day drive last Sunday, and Mrs. Winslow Sears, chairman of the Women's Division, and Mr. Donald Angier, chairman of Special Gifts, report that they exceeded their quota. However they are still working and hope to double this quota before the drive ends.

Mrs. Robert M. P. Kennard, chairman of Special Gifts for Oak Hill, reports that her committee collected 110 per cent of its quota. She was assisted by Mr. Benjamin T. Fawcett, Mr. Francis King, Mrs. Wendell Bauckman, Mr. Philip Saunders, and Mr. Eric Bianchi.

Mr. Floyd and Mr. Charles Raymond Cabot are planning to meet with a group of workers at a mid-campaign report luncheon on Saturday, March 13, at the Braeburn Country Club. In addition to Mrs. Henry T. Patch, War Fund Secretary for South Side, and Mrs. Walter Webling, Jr., War Fund Secretary for the North Side there will be present the following Village Chairmen: Mrs. Franklin Hoyt, Auburndale; Mrs. Winslow Sears, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Frank Dennison, Newton; Mrs. E. K. Mentzer, Newton Centre; Mrs. L. H. Marshall, Newton Highlands; Mrs. P. Clarence Baker, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. F. Lincoln Peirce, Newtonville; Mrs. John J. Quirk, Nonantum; Mrs. Fred B. Lund, Jr., Oak Hill; Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Waban; Mrs. Kerwin Goldman, Waban Hill; Mrs. Edward W. Prude and Mrs. John C. Campbell, West Newton; and Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, Newton Upper Falls.

The United States has a lower mortality rate than before the war, according to Clyde S. Casady, executive secretary of the Savings Bank Life Insurance Council of Boston, who was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club yesterday at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton.

Mr. Casady, speaking on "General Life Insurance" revealed that though this country represents only seven per cent of the population, it holds 70 per cent of the world's insurance. He said that one dollar out of every 15 spent in the United States goes for insurance which has increased from 26 billion dollars 25 years ago to 130 billion.

Mr. Casady asserted that companies were receiving the lowest rate of cancellations in history. He advised service men to take advantage of the government's insurance policies.

Past Commander Arthur A. Hunt of the Newton Post, American Legion, spoke on the Red Cross and appealed for blood donors to the plasma bank.

Mr. S. E. Sanguinetti, president of the Newton Lions Club, invited Rotary members to attend the meeting of Lions on Thursday evening at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren presented two teachers from Mexico City.

Francis L. Buswell arranged the program and introduced the speaker. President Mathew F. Ruane was in charge of the meeting.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS FOR 17-YEAR-OLDS

An opportunity to fly some of the world's best planes; to learn navigation, gunnery and blind flying; to become an all-around aviation expert and get paid for doing it, is the offer the Navy makes to 17-year-old young men of this community who can qualify for Naval Aviation Cadet Training.

The education and training given a cadet costs Uncle Sam $27,000 and the young man who makes the grade wins his pilot's wings and a commission as Ensign in the Navy or Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps. The pay is $245 a month up, plus a liberal uniform allowance.

Young men of seventeen who are high school seniors, graduates, or in preparatory school or college may apply. Scholarships they must stand, or have graduated, in the upper half of the male enrollment of their class, with the exception of college men who must stand in the upper two-thirds of their class.

The Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board of Boston is in charge of this program for the First Naval District. Those who wish to apply should write to the Board or, better still, apply in person. The address is 150 Causeway Street, near Boston's North Station.

Opportunity knocks! Those who qualify remain in civilian life as Apprentice Seamen until they are both eighteen and have graduated, according to requirements.

MENUTT'S PROBLEM IS OUR PROBLEM

MANPOWER IS THE RAW MATERIAL FOR VICTORY. Its correct distribution is the greatest single problem facing the United States today.

As President Roosevelt has put it: "It is not that we do not have enough people to do the job. The problem is to have the right numbers of the right people in the right places at the right time." The mere size of the problem is stupendous. Donald Nelson estimates that soon 44 million people, or one out of every three, will be in the war force of fighters, farmers, and factory workers.

This will mean disrupting the lives, and breaking the cherished habits of millions of ordinary men and women all across the country.

But men cannot be moved like materials. Men have reactions, materials don't. John Doe will have to co-operate.

The Government could take the powers to order him what to do; but at the moment both Labor and Management are opposed to direct Government control. So the solution for the war industries will have to be worked out with John Doe choosing his own job.

This is the present system. Under it, thousands of workers have moved, have changed their way of life, and miracles of production have been accomplished. But it is not working to 100% efficiency. Every plant manager complains of labor turnover; in some factories as much as 25% extra labor force is kept to fill the gaps.

What is the answer, if compulsion is not acceptable, and the voluntary system inefficient? The answer does not lie in new methods, but in a new spirit. No person today is stopped from finding his place of real service; given the conviction and determination, John Doe can find his place and give his best.

Mr. McNutt's office can make the plans; the individual citizen will have to make them work. The connecting factor is the conscience of the ordinary man.

Manpower depends on motive. If John Doe is moved simply by a desire for higher wages, by fear of the draft, by an unwillingness to leave home and face discomfort, or even by a desire to get away from home, then the manpower problem cannot be solved.

Our pre-war motto, "Do as I darned well please," must give place to a new one, "Do what God and country say." It was to this type of moral rearmament that the late Speaker Bankhead was referring when he said, "A new type of citizen has emerged who puts country before self, who is making the task of government easier and giving fresh dignity to the word patriot."

Freedom for some people is just being free from things they don't like so they can be slaves to things they do.

"Planting the Victory Garden" was the subject for discussion at the second of three mass meetings sponsored by the Boston Victory Garden Committee, the Advertising Club of Boston and the Mass. Horticultural Society, which was held at Horticultural Hall on Wednesday, March 3.

Henry G. Wendler, assistant to Park Com. William P. Long, who is director of the Victory Garden project for the city, gave the lecture of the evening.

In addition to Mr. Wendler's talk, Arno H. Nehrling of the Mass. Horticultural Society was also a speaker on the program.

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

WHILE SINGLE-MINDEDNESS IS sometimes a virtue, thick-headedness is always a nuisance. Of the thirty-three persons who have been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on charges of conspiring to sabotage the morale of the United States armed forces, most have had the good judgment to keep their silence.

A few, including William Griffin, snide publisher of the New York Enquirer, have tub-thumped their patriotism and pulled a few wires, but have let it go at that.

But others, such as Joseph P. Kamp, of the so-called Constitutional Educational League, E. J. Garner, the Wichita, Kan., witch-hunter, and George E. Sullivan, crackpot "anti-Talmudist", whatever that may be, are managing to carry on at their old stands.

Kamp, whose offices are located some two miles from the F. B. I. offices in New York, busies himself and his staff sending out an endless stream of mail all over the country. As may be expected, Kamp's mail includes pamphlets which attack the administration, deride the United States war effort, and vilify prominent American anti-Fascists. Obviously the Kamp technique, like the old Coughlin technique, is the indirect one of beleaguering the flank activities of the government. To this end anything which shakes the confidence of the people in their leadership, or in their fellow citizens, is useful to the attainment of Kamp objectives.

"The Class War on the Home Front" is Kamp's most recent contribution to the Confusionist cause. It conforms to the old hackneyed theme that the Government of the United States has fallen into the hands of the "Communist", of which there is no more ill-conceived canard. Kamp's diatribes are remarkably like the effusions which are now being broadcast from Goebbels' offices in Berlin in that they claim that the Roosevelt administration is an "army of assassinated Marxists" and is furiously seeking "to undermine the American system of society and Government." Which is exactly what may happen if enough agitators of Kamp's caliber are permitted the use of the mails to spread their filth and perjury.

It is, incidentally, a tribute of some sort to the mental left-handedness of Rep. Clare Hoffman, and Rep. Dies, that of all the legislators they contribute to the moral support of Kamp and his Front organization.

If Kamp is a liar, then Garner is a fool and Sullivan is a rogue. Garner, who abuses the free American privilege of being an ignoramus, directs his venom at minor religious groups. Sullivan limits himself to no such restricted territory. He "lays on" the administration, the internationalists and the "Talmudists" alike.

In his spare moments Sullivan ridicules the American war effort, sneers at American war aims, and denounces American war leaders.

Other subversives whom it would seem the Justice Department should long ago have caught up with, are Court Asher, the Hoosier hate-monger, Gerald L. K. Smith, would-be Huey Long of Kansas, and Gerald B. Winrod, the Kansas Copperhead, and C. Leon de Aryan, who has developed a considerable journalistic racket for himself in lower California.

LOOKING BACKWARD... In the light of the historic development it may now be accepted that Hitler's liquidation of Czechoslovakia, for all its tragedy and inhumanity, was a blessing in disguise. Czechoslovakia will rise again and Hitler will be eradicated but the sacrifice of that republic, which in a great measure was national self-sacrifice, was instrumental in effectively tearing away the veil of fraud and hypocrisy that was still hiding Hitler's secret intentions.

Until the rape of Munich, and the dismemberment which followed it, Hitler successfully paraded under the banner of "Germany for Germans." It was this spurious, but effective, cloak to his inner purposes which gave him the Saar, the Sudetenland and Austria. Had he not unmasked himself by his Czechoslovakian conquest he would in all certainty have gained Danzig as well.

Hitler has made no end of mistakes in both judgment and fact—his certainty that the British would not fight after Dunkirk, his invasion of Russia, his destruction of trade unions, his anti-Semitic brutalities, his alliance with Japan—but his greatest mistake was unquestionably the wanton destruction of the Republic of Czechoslovakia. But for that illuminating error, Hitler, in spite of his bestiality, might have carved a name for himself in German history.

NOTHING SO MUCH betrays the decadence of France and so-called upper class Frenchmen as the refusal of Admiral Godfrey, snugly ensconced at Alexandria with a goodly sized fleet, to join the United Nations forces.

Godfrey reflects the absurd position, taken by so many French generals and admirals, that the men and material under their sway are so much personal property to be used or abused as their whims dictate. Of the same unmanly spirit was the work of Admiral Robert at Martinique who long ago should have had the moral stamina to aid the powers attempting to save and re-establish the French nation.

Most disgusting of all is the continued enforcement of segments of the hateful Nuremberg laws in North Africa, or any other place, which doesn't speak well for French democratic element in that part of the world. Nor is it much of a compliment to the representatives of the United States State Department who are presumed to be guiding French policy. One of the first acts of the French forces on assuming ascendancy in North Africa, or any other place, should be the eradication of vicious Vichy promulgations.

INSIDE STRAIGHT... There's actually a Shangri-Lai in China. Location will be given after the war... Italy has established martial law in Albania... Little is being said of sabotage in France but it is becoming more frequent and bolder... Japan has abolished its "friendship" policy in conquered countries and is going in for wholesale torture of natives... Chemically treated wood is replacing steel in heavy construction... Proof that Jap business men in the United States knew when the war would begin was discovered in the books of the Yokohama Specie Bank, which are normally closed for the year on Dec. 30th, but instead were closed on Dec. 3rd, 1941... The principality of Monaco with a population of less than 24,000 (and of the Casino de Monte Carlo) refuses to black out its lights which shine on the Mediterranean like a brilliant beacon. Prince Louis II of Monaco defies both French and Italians... Liberia will issue postage stamps commemorating F. D. R.'s visit.

The plan for nurses' homes at the Newton Cottage Hospital are about ready in the office of Hartwell & Richardson. The building is to be old colonial in style, with reception rooms and bedrooms for 40 nurses. It will be 74 feet front by 50 feet deep.

The police report every night at City Hall the street lamps on their beat that are not lighted, and the Gas Company sends a man every morning to copy the record, and to remedy the cause of the trouble.

Newton is a very large city to cover, and the repairs mount up to a considerable sum in the course of a year.

The ways of the highway department sometimes seem enigmatical, but there are always two standpoints from which to view these matters.

The annual budget for 1918, carrying a grand total of $1,787,799.23, just adopted by the aldermen, is the largest in the history of the city, and at that is about $156,000 lower than the figures favored by the Mayor.

It is interesting to note that the item for Mothers' Aid, a comparatively new form of relief work, now amounts to $20,000, of which one-third is reimbursed by the state. The playground department, also a somewhat new municipal enterprise, now costs over $22,000 annually.

30 boys from the U. S. S. "Rhode Island" were entertained over the past week-end in a variety of ways, in Newtonville, and spent a lively few minutes while waiting for the train Sunday evening comparing notes as to who had the best time.

Apparently, some of the gentlemen who would profit from the enactment of this type of legislation are fearful lest our returning soldiers, sailors and marines might throw them out of their soft jobs. Wouldn't that be just the way to judge? Our new State Senator did not approve this type of legislation. Despite the Senator's modesty, it is obvious that he knows his way around, even at this early date.

Rep. Francis, due possibly to a heavy cold, did not deliver his usual sweeping survey of the state's financial situation. He confined his remarks largely to the question of surplus commodities, which most of us know very little about and which practically none of us have!

During the question period following the set-seconds, I decided to take the bull by the horns, for reasons I shall mention shortly, and inquire what was happening to the investigation of this ghastly tragedy. Rep. Rawson's answer to my query was hardly satisfactory, as he confined himself largely to a tribute to Newton's splendid building laws and perfect enforcement. What I wanted to know was this: what protection does the average citizen have against a similar disaster in the future? Also, what can the average citizen do if he is NOT satisfied with the conduct of those in authority, especially if they are appointed rather than elected public officials?

At this point, may I ask my readers if they have noticed that the papers, by and large, have apparently adopted a hush-hush policy since the tragedy? Not for the first week or two, of course. I have on file copies of leading editorial in one of Boston's best papers urging the public to keep the discussion going and to aid the proper officials in their task of ferreting out and punishing any guilty parties. Then, suddenly, a dead silence, participated in by all but one paper, to the best of my knowledge. Why? Why? Why?

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. G.

Newton League of Women Voters' Dinner

It has been my privilege for a number of years to be one of the very few men at the annual legislators' luncheon of the Newton League of Women Voters. This year it was decided to hold a dinner instead; also, to invite husbands and other members of the sterner sex. Despite the heavy snowstorm, followed by torrents of rain, the attendance was noteworthy. It is hard to believe that anybody stayed at home. Certainly the dining-room at the Brimburn Country Club was reasonably well filled. The only absentee from the head-table was Rep. Loomis Patrick, who sent a very fine message from distant parts, explaining that nothing but his participation in the real war effort kept him from being present.

Mayor Goddard, now an accomplished legislator, made a fine speech and all our members of the Legislature made important contributions to the intellectual entertainment which followed an excellent buffet supper. As always, Mrs. Robert T. Bushnell made a distinct hit as toastmaster. Frankly, she does a better job than most men. I know. There is never a dull moment and she invariably tells a pertinent story in introducing the speakers. Her tribute to President Charles B. Floyd of our Board of Aldermen was well-deserved. Few men in Newton have done more for the city than this quiet, but highly efficient gentleman.

I should like to dwell for a moment on the question raised by Rep. Margaret Spear of Newton Center. She created quite a stir, especially among the women members of the Legislature, because she failed to support a bill sponsored by one of the five lady representatives. The point at issue is simply this:—should women all stick together in handling legislation favored by women as a whole or should women act exactly like men and treat all legislation strictly on its merits?

I gave Rep. Spear my personal reaction privately after the meeting. It is my firm belief that one reason why women have apparently made so little progress in the political arena is because many of them are inclined to vote as a little bloc of their own, regardless of the fundamental merit of the question at hand. Therefore, more power to you, Rep. Spear. Stick to your guns and vote according to your best judgment, even if a few other ladies treat you as a backslider.

Senator Bowen made some extremely interesting observations about the numerous bills now being heard which provide life-tenure in certain positions in cities and towns and counties.

Apparently, some of the gentlemen who would profit from the enactment of this type of legislation are fearful lest our returning soldiers, sailors and marines might throw them out of their soft jobs. Wouldn't that be just the way to judge? Our new State Senator did not approve this type of legislation. Despite the Senator's modesty, it is obvious that he knows his way around, even at this early date.

Washington — Any newspaper correspondent in Washington will tell that a small group of Congressmen—hardly more than three per cent of our 531 Senators and Representatives — is responsible for the low opinion many Americans have of the legislative branch of our government.

This small group thrives on denouncing government regulations, complaining about shortages and even ridiculing those who are sufficiently far-sighted to want to discuss post-war affairs now.

Many of the speeches made by these "statesmen" in Congress have been quoted and circulated by subversive groups for the purpose of stirring discontent and confusion in this country.

Why a few Congressmen should feel free to jeopardize the effectiveness of a war time Congress is a mystery to many here. We'd hate to think that immunity from prosecution had anything to do with it!

Millions of Americans hold Capt. Rickenbacker in high esteem as an authentic military hero of World War I. But now his amazing series of "anti-everything" speeches—inciting bad feelings between our armed forces and the farm and production forces upon which they depend—have his admirers asking "Why?"

One answer is that allowances must be made for a man who has been through his terrible experience in the Pacific.

We do not believe that Capt. Rickenbacker is a fascist as many claim—but we do believe that the famous aviator should get the figures straight before he rails against overtime pay for workers getting, say, $25.00 per week and in the next sentence denounces a $25,000 salary limitation for executives during the war.

We hope he realizes soon that the intemperate line he has taken must tend to irritate his many friends and admirers and will not gain him new ones worthy of the name.

hundred innocent lives? By whose authority are reputable newspapers muzzled? What do our boys in the armed forces think about this sort of thing? Many of them lost their lives in the Coconut Grove holocaust. Is it O. K. with them to impede the investigation and assist those guilty in escaping punishment? I wonder.

Now, what can the Newton League of Women Voters do about this situation? Plenty. In the first place, Newton is the home of our courageous and utterly fearless Attorney General, Robert T. Bushnell. If a hundred or more league members should write or telephone Mr. Bushnell and assure him that they are with him heart and soul and will gladly do anything they can to help him, it seems to me that that would help some. Then, if the league took a formal stand and urged other voters' leagues in this vicinity to do the same thing, Mr. Bushnell would be further encouraged. Incidentally, the power of the women voters is tremendous. If they go out to make news, they MAKE news and the small local papers will publish it. Remember, you can start a big snowball with relatively little snow. How about it, Lady voters?

PAY TRIBUTE TO MEN IN THE SERVICE

The Men's Club of the Church of the Messiah at their meeting paid tribute to 51 members of the parish who are in the armed services. The names of the servicemen and women were read by Dr. Charles Ansley. Mrs. M. Millie Beardsley was master of ceremonies.

A tableau "America" was presented under the direction of Mrs. Earl D. Wood and music was by the Messiah Chorus. There were also special numbers and songs with Dorothy Billings at the console.

The proceeds are to be used to purchase an honor roll plaque for the church.

TO HOLD SERIES OF TELEPHONE BRIDGES

A series of telephone bridges are being held by the Philomathean Club under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Fouby. The proceeds will be used for the scholarship fund of the club for Boston College students.

The hostesses are: Mrs. G. W. Goerner, Mrs. Fred Leonard, Mrs. Francis B. Smith, Mrs. George F. Waking, Mrs. Henry P. Walsh, Mrs. Thomas Harkins, Mrs. Ellis Fields, Mrs. George Flood, Mrs. Daniel J. Holland, Mrs. Daniel Warren, Mrs. Vincent P. Roberts, president; Mrs. Josephine Hartigan, and Mrs. Thomas Dunbar.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

This Day of Prayer will be observed on March 12 at 10:30 a. m. in the Second Church of Newton, Highland st., West Newton. Miss Margaret Slattery, who is to be the speaker, has taken for her message "Humanity at the Gate of Tomorrow", a most timely thought for creative thinking. This is an open interdenominational worship service and anyone interested is invited to attend.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sauro of 37 Cook st., Newton, celebrated their golden wedding at the Sons of Italy Hall, Newton, on Sunday. They were married on March 6, 1893. The couple were honored by their 5 children and 13 of their 14 grandchildren; as Lieut. Tolence Annesse, now on active duty as an Army nurse, was the only one of their grandchildren who was unable to be present.

has been in Congress for five years. During that time he has, as far as the records show, opened his mouth only twice. Once lately, to save married men from army service and the other time in defense of some buck privates of the Thirty-fifth Division who had hollered "Yoo hoo" at some girls on a golf course, just as Lt. Gen. Ben Lear was making a ten dollar put. Naturally Rep. Kilday was as indignant over the penalty these buck privates had to face as he is solicitous for the husbands he would keep from becoming buck privates.

Both ballyhooes were well taken and we hope to hear more often from Rep. Kilday. Or is it true that having practiced law for some years in San Antonio, Mr. Kilday took Maury Maverick's seat away from him just to take a vacation and look over Washington.

WALTER PIERCE PREDICTS: The Soviet Army will soon complete the series of battles that will set the foundation for the final victory of the United Nations. The Russian war of movement tempo was never approached by the Nazis. Even in its best days the German Army never strode forward at such rate. ...Amalgamation of the Gen. de Gaulle Gen. Giraud forces soon with both Generals as active heads of combined French Armies in Africa and "elsewhere"....Despite prospective merchandise shortages, hundreds of manufacturers will continue to advertise their products in newspapers and magazines during the war. Those who do not must expect a free-for-all battle with many new competitors after the war is won....Time isn't ripe yet for a Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin get-together but Stalin will confer later....Unless Byrnes and Brown have more acres up their sleeves, farmers will win higher prices for their products. It will mean higher wages too, all around. Then watch the inflation line bend—but not as far as some predict.

IN MEMORY

Editor, Newton Graphic:

She came into the sunlit room, reflecting my mood, as I turned from the large colored picture of the Great Gibraltar, over her fireplace.

She was my first woman acquaintance in our new Paris. That glimpse reassured and comforted me, for I had reluctantly left a circle of good friends.

No word did she utter of herself—or her household, though this was an early morning interruption in what, I later learned, was one of her busy, well-ordered days.

Calmly she entered into our problem of settling, displaying interest in our children, our former parish, and our present needs.

We spoke of our difficulties, moving in zero weather, our children's illnesses and the wrench of leaving our last home. To all she listened patiently, with understanding sympathy.

Later, with chagrin, I recalled my own egotism, when I learned that at that time two of her own children were ill above stairs.

In the years ahead, we met often, many times with differing views on church and civic problems, again—heartily in sympathy—always felt this friend—fair minded—fair hearted—was one of strength in our community. Self was always submerged in any problem (we were separated for years).

More Volunteers Needed By Woman's Division

In order to step up its work for the encouragement of war savings and also to carry forward efficiently another year its campaign, started during the first months of 1942, the Woman's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee urgently needs the help of at least one hundred more women. THE MEN'S CLUB OF NEWTON HIGHLANDS

The Entertainment Committee has just announced the program for the March Dinner Meeting on Tuesday, the 16th at 6:30 p.m., the Parish House, Congregational Church. This show is another one of the double-header type so popular with the members at the February meeting.

The well-known writer and radio commentator Irving T. McDonald will speak on "Two Days That Settled the War." Radio Listeners are very familiar with his concise, clear-cut descriptions and broad interpretations of figures now making history.

The program will be rounded out in the humorous vein by Frank Lane, a versatile entertainer. He will delight the Club members, as he has countless other audiences, with his laugh-provoking stories, mystery novelties, songs and piano playing.

The Nominating Committee to select a slate of officers for 1943-1944 will be named at this meeting.

Rheumatic Fever
Major Enemy Of Child Health

Rheumatic fever, one of the major enemies of child health in America today, and a leading cause of heart disease, may become an even greater menace as conditions favoring its spread now exist in many boom towns throughout the nation. This warning, which is stressed in a statement by Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, Third Vice-President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, is based upon studies showing that overcrowding, makeshift housing facilities, and unhygienic surroundings may act as detonators to set off explosive outbreaks of the disease.

In Massachusetts, statisticians of the company pointed out, the mortality rates of rheumatic fever are considerably above the average for the country as a whole. "The incidence of the disease and its crippling heart complications are shown by the fact that among children between ages 5 and 14 in Massachusetts, it outranks every other disease as a cause of death. The importance of rheumatic fever is further indicated by the fact that infantile paralysis, generally regarded as one of childhood's greatest menaces has, in recent years, caused less than one-twentieth as many fatalities among children in this age group in Massachusetts," continued Dr. Armstrong.

"Success in fighting rheumatic fever depends upon early discovery and adequate medical supervision, even after recovery from an attack," Dr. Armstrong asserted. "Many children have repeated attacks until they reach adolescence. The likelihood of heart damage is increased by the frequency of attacks. Consequently every effort should be made to determine if heart disease is present. This is not done until when doctors exist the family physician frequently seeks the aid of experts in diagnosis."

"A rheumatic child, if he has the benefit of early diagnosis and treatment, may be guided through the critical years of childhood with the expectation that he will stand a good chance of escaping heart damage. Even though the heart may be damaged, most children when completely recovered from the active phase of rheumatic fever, need not be restricted, as a rule, from ordinary activities. Many children have been needlessly made invalids because this has not been fully appreciated. Suitable educational and vocational guidance will assist children with severe heart damage to lead useful and relatively normal lives."

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER,
D. A. R.

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. met recently at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls. The guest speaker, Miss Elsie Coolidge, State Chairman of the D. A. R. Museum, read an entertaining and instructive paper describing in detail a part of the National D. A. R. Museum exhibits in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Lawrence Bliss, who was to give an address on "Florida, Fairland of Flowers," was unable to be present due to the fact that Uncle Sam demanded his presence at Fort Edwards and all previous engagements were cancelled.

Delegates to the D. A. R. Continental Congress to be held in Cincinnati this year were elected. The railroads have promised accommodations so it won't be a standing trek west. Those elected were the Regent, Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown; Mrs. Walter E. Holden and Mrs. Charles W. Blood; accredited delegates, Mrs. Frank Larkin and Mrs. Winfield Scott Smythe, alternates.

Delegates to the State Conference were Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown as Regent, Mrs. Edward J. Frost, Mrs. Jeanette Smith Howland, Mrs. Edward Titus. The eight alternates elected to the State Conference were, Mrs. Arthur Tucker, Mrs. James G. Patterson, Mrs. Harry Cabot, Mrs. Winfield Smythe, Mrs. Edward Parker, Mrs. Frederick Warren, Mrs. Harold Carnes, Miss Jane Hobart.

At the social hour following the meeting, Mrs. Harry Cabot and hostesses served tea.

Kiwanis Clubs
Are Awarded
Drive Citation

"I am very proud of the recognition by the War Production Board of the part Kiwanis clubs took in the scrap metal and rubber drive," stated James P. Gallagher of Newton, and International Trustee of Kiwanis International. Mr. Gallagher has returned from a council meeting of Kiwanis International in Chicago. Business of the council covered the 1942 reports of the war activities of Kiwanis clubs throughout the United States and Canada. Work of the Agriculture committee for victory gardens and assistance of Kiwanis clubs to the Red Cross drive in March were stressed in the 1943 planning by the council. "One of the outstanding reports was one that was compiled and released by the Automotive Safety Foundation which showed the great impetus which Kiwanians gave to the salvage drive," continued Mr. Gallagher. "Kiwanis clubs provided manpower and trucks, organized door-to-door solicitations, promoted scrap rallies, parades and furnished sites for scrap depots."

Ben Regan, executive secretary, Illinois State Salvage committee, presented a citation for meritorious service of Kiwanis clubs in the collection of scrap to Fred G. McAlister, president of Kiwanis International. The presentation was in behalf of Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board.

Mr. Gallagher stated that the Foundation figures showed that 696 Kiwanis clubs helped to collect 288,632 net tons of iron and steel scrap, an average of 415 net tons per club; and 455 clubs helped collect 11,259 net tons of scrap rubber averaging 25 net tons per club.

According to WPB ordnance conversion figures this amount of metal would make: 20,000 machine guns; 10,000 tank guns; 10,000 medium tanks; 10,000 light tanks; 20,000 howitzers; 8 heavy cruiser hulls; 35,000 ton battleships; and 1390 one ton aerial bombs.

The salvaged rubber was equal to the requirements in crude rubber of: 1500 heavy bombers with an attack; 10,000 medium tanks; 10,000 light tanks; 10,000 scout cars; 10,000 light tanks; 20,000 gun carriages; 5,000 army transport trucks; 10,000 military motorcycles; plus the rubber used in thirty 35,000 ton battleships; and 5,000,000 gas masks.

NEWTON LIONS CLUBS

Clarence Mease, General Secretary of the "Y" was the speaker at last week's meeting of the Newton Lions Club. Secretary Mease gave a most thought-provoking talk on the "Future Decade" and stressed the importance of deciding now what kind of a world we want. Now is the time to answer the question "What kind of a world do we want to live in?" said Mease and the answer can be best found by each of us asking ourselves "What kind of a world do I want?"

A new member, J. W. "Jack" Tupper of Newton Highlands, was elected to the Club. Lion Tupper was proposed by Hazen E. Edgar, the Tail Twister.

Neal Benson of the New England Office of O. P. A. spoke at the last meeting of the Newton Lions Club on the subject of Point Rating. In connection with his remarks he also showed a very interesting picture depicting how the Point Rating system is set up, not only from the point of view of the buyer, but also from the angle of the retailer. The enormous task of collecting the coupons from the many dealers and giving them credit so that they may re-order depleted supplies now falls on the commercial banks of the Nation which will open "Coupon Accounts" from which the retailer or the wholesale dealer will draw checks in coupons instead of money.

Mr. Benson urges that every buyer demand that each store with which the individual deals posts his required chart showing the point value of articles in a conspicuous place so that there will be less likelihood of mistakes. The Club was pleased to announce that a new member John W. Tupper, Piano Tuner of Newton Highlands had joined and the "Roar" was dedicated to him.

At the meeting on Thursday March 11th it was announced that Mayor Goddard would be present to welcome our distinguished guest Dr. Tehyi Hsieh who will speak on a subject of great importance to everyone. Dr. Hsieh is a well known author and lecturer and is coming to address this joint meeting of the Lions Clubs of Newton, Waltham and Watertown.

Oil

Shortage of imported fats and oils has led scientists of the department of agriculture to seek substitutes in materials formerly wasted. Most promising among the pit or kernel oils are apricot, prune, peach, and cherry oils. All are similar and somewhat resemble sweet almond oil used in cosmetics and in baking.

Flying Start

When the abandoned Federal Reserve Bank building in downtown Pittsburgh was taken over as headquarters for War Materials, Inc., whose job is to get 5,000,000 tons of scrap metal for the war effort, 15 tons of iron bars and grates on the structure were promptly taken down.

Apply to County Board

All the more important items of new farm equipment are rationed, and purchasers must make application to their county board before tools or machinery can be obtained from dealers. Some hand tools and some of the smaller horse-drawn equipment still can be bought without a permit from the rationing board.

100,000,000 Shades of Color

Richard Hunter of the bureau of standards, Washington, D. C., has developed an instrument with the jaw-breaking name of Photoelectric Tristimulus Colorimeter which can distinguish approximately 100,000,000 shades of color, only an infinitesimal few of which are discernible to the human eye. The finer and "invisible" distinctions have a value in certain operations in industry.

Catch as Catch Can

The world hasn't been a pathway to the door of Private William J. Monro, Capt. Robert Roberts, California. But there is still a possibility. The private built a tytrap at the request of his mess sergeant, and placed it in the drill yard near the mess hall. Two hours elapsed before anyone checked it to see how it was operating. The trap worked, but not as originally planned. Instead of flies—the trap contained two mice!

Lost His Shoes

Men at the Officers Candidate school at Miami Beach, Fla., were quartered temporarily in a hotel where diurnal regulations were observed. At reveille they lined up in the dimmed out area. The men were told to report immediately to their own squadrons for breakfast. One man hesitated—would he be permitted to return to his room for a moment? In the darkened room he couldn't find his shoes. That's why he reported in bare feet.

PARKER-SCHWAB

Miss Philenia H. Schwab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew N. Schwab of Newton Centre, was married to Stanley Coolidge Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Parker of Auburndale. The wedding took place at the bride's home, 182 Homer st., Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frederick H. Morris of Trinity Church, Newton Centre, and a reception at the home immediately followed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with a full-length veil. She carried a bouquet of orchids attractively arranged on a pure white prayer book. Mrs. June W. Woodard of Newton Highlands was matron of honor and Miss Grace Edgerton of Bridgeport, Conn., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Both wore orchid and Nile green gowns and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Francis D. Parker of Boston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Charles H. Seek Many More Pharmacists

As part of the War Shipping Administration training program, the first class of 250 Pharmacists' Mates will graduate March 12 from the new Hospital Corps School at the U. S. Maritime Service Training School at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Large numbers of these Pharmacists' Mates must be trained quickly to treat any emergency likely to occur at sea on the increasing number of new Victory Ships, all of which are equipped with sick-bay facilities.

Apprentice seamen, 25 or under, with four years of high school education, are eligible for admission to the school after five weeks of preliminary seaman training. In some cases, where men have special qualifications, the age and high school education requirements may be waived.

The course is a three month intensive study of anatomy and physiology, pharmacy, hygiene and sanitation, nursing, psychology, first aid, emergency treatment and clinical laboratory technique, planned to make them well qualified specialists.

Graduates of the school will be assigned to various U. S. Marine and Public Health Service hospitals for practical experience before serving as medical petty officers with the Victory Fleet. Future plans call for doubling the capacity of the school and the anchorage of a vessel off Sheepshead Bay station to give students practical experience in moving patients on litters from ship to shore.

He burst into his quarters exclaiming excitedly: "We thrashed them, annihilated them, massacred them!" Then he added in a subdued voice, "But they had all the breaks—and we lost!"

Skin Cream for Workers

Everybody Is "Starry-eyed"
Everybody is "starry-eyed" for the lens of the human eye has a star-shaped figure on its surface somewhat similar to the image seen in a star sapphire, according to the Better Vision Institute. In some eyes the star is more prominent than in others. The figure results from the fact that the lens fibers grow forward from a layer of cells in the back, forming a series of sectors. The lines of junction of the sectors form a star-shaped figure on the surface of the lens. The star is more clearly seen if the lens comes cloudy, as it often does with advancing age.

Propellers Take More Time
Two and a half times more man hours are needed to make an aircraft propeller than an automobile, according to the Automotive Council for War Production. When in balance, the 410-pound completed assembly can be moved by a puff of air.

St. Bartholomew Massacre

The massacre, which began on St. Bartholomew's day, August 24, 1572, continued to October 3. Statistics differ and the dead throughout France have been placed from 15,000 to 30,000. Guilt rests with Catherine de Medici, the queen mother, who feared the growing power of the Huguenots and the influence of their leader, Admiral Coligny. An abortive attempt was made to assassinate Coligny and with the failure of this, Catherine persuaded her son Charles IX to carry out the massacre as a measure of safety.

NUTRITION — GARDENING — PRESERVATION

No doubt some enthusiastic gardeners had their spirits slightly dampened with the recent fall of snow but to the experienced gardener it meant the thought of early spring fertilizing. Snow has long been known as "the Poor Man's fertilizer." If you were forehanded enough to have prepared your vegetable garden plot last fall, now is the ideal time to top dress it with barnyard manure as it will soak down into the soil and when the time comes to spade it under, you will be one jump ahead of the rest of us.

While you may not actually be able to start digging your most certainly can improve your time by preparing your garden tools. This is the time to inspect them as many of them cannot be replaced if they break or wear out. Sharpen your edge tools, clean up rusty spades and trowels. Give the lawn mower a good cleaning and have it sharpened before the rush season. Inspect your garden hose if you are lucky enough to have one; wrap any weak spots with tire tape and clean the plugged nozzle, if necessary. Remember, care saves wear, and saving will be as important to us as it was to our thrifty New England ancestors.

Collect wood for bean poles, and order or cut several garden stakes of various sizes. You will need them for tomato plants later.

Now is the time to see that your trees, bushes and vines are pruned before the sap begins to rise.

Survey Of Land Made For Victory Gardens

Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson States At Least 286 Lots Are Available

Working in cooperation with the Nutrition-Gardening-Preservation Committee, Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson has undertaken a survey of 286 city-owned parcels of land suitable for cultivation as Victory Gardens.

He stated that of the total number of lots owned by the city, 75, at least, would answer the needs. He has prepared a list of the locations of the lots and is undertaking systematic inspections to ascertain their suitability for the purpose.

Commissioner Wilson is also making plans to use from four to six acres of the Albemarle land purchased for playground purposes several years ago, and land adjoining the Angier School in Waban.

Private owners have made offers of land aggregating 50 to 60 acres.

It is proposed to divide the land into garden plots and assign them to residents who apply for the privilege of raising vegetables there for their own consumption.

Tractors of the Recreation Department will be used to plow the land included in the public garden projects.

Commissioner Wilson has listed persons available for hire to plow private land at the expense of the owners. Anyone wishing the list of persons available for this purpose may obtain it from Commissioner W. Ison.

362 Receive Awards For Red Cross Work; Big Enthusiastic Group At Inspiring Exercises

Before a large and enthusiastic group of friends and well-wishers, 362 Newton Red Cross Volunteers received certificates Tuesday at the Newton High School. The colorful exercises were opened by the procession of graduates, who were led into the auditorium by a color guard.

After the invocation, pronounced by Rev. John A. Sheridan, and a message of greeting to the Newton Red Cross by Mayor Paul M. Goddard, Lt. Frank L. Sweeney (Jg.), USNR, and Sgt. Frank R. Kelley of the Marine Corps, were introduced to the audience. Lt. Sweeney, whose duty it is to meet service men returning to Boston from overseas, said that his talks with these boys make him realize how much Red Cross contacts mean to the men away from home. Sgt. Kelley, who was badly hurt by an explosion during the battle of Midway, said that he is convinced that the only thing that saved his life—and the lives of many of his comrades—was Red Cross blood plasma.

Representing Junior Red Cross, Miss Anne Avantaggio played a piano solo, which was warmly received. This was followed by the speaker of the evening, Mrs. William Barclay Parsons, Jr., administrator of Volunteer Service of the North Atlantic Area of the Red Cross, who brought a message to the graduates from the National Organization. She stressed the importance of the work being done by volunteers, especially in these dark war days, and said that this group of loyal workers was the very life-line of Red Cross. Without them, it would be impossible to do the necessary work for the gallant men and women who have, themselves, volunteered to make the world a safe place for us and our children.

Mrs. William L. Young, chairman of the Newton Volunteer Services, in presenting the certificates to the Corps chairman, said that the success of each Corps is wholly dependent upon the chairman, and that the success of the Chapter is, in turn, dependent upon the splendid cooperation between the Corps and their personnel. She told the graduates that the certificate being given them is the pledge of service to Red Cross. As each chairman received a certificate, her Corps stood up in acknowledgment.

The chairmen of the Volunteer Service Corps are Canteen, Miss Agnes Early, chairman; Dietitian Aides, Mrs. H. W. Fitts, chairman; Nurses, Mrs. E. D. Warner, chairman of Newton Hospital Unit, and Mrs. Fred G. Stritzinger, 3rd, chairman of Marine Hospital Unit; Home Service, Mrs. Cecil W. Clark; Motor Corps, Mrs. Stanley Stedfast, captain; Nurse's Aides, Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr., chairman; Staff Assistance, Mrs. Walter Welby, Jr., chairman.

Mr. C. R. Cabot, chairman of the Newton Chapter, then spoke of the outstanding work which has been done by some of the other committees in the Chapter. Roll Call, with Mrs. Henry T. Patch as chairman, has built up an enviable membership for the Chapter during the past few years. Many of these committees, added Mr. Cabot, are educational—all of them contribute to the health and safety of our community. He then presented awards of merit for service to the Chapter to the following committees: Disaster Preparedness, Mr. Charles B. Floyd, chairman; First Aid, Mrs. Robert E. Dickerman, chairman; Home Nursing, Mrs. Charles J. A. Wilson, chairman; Junior Red Cross, Miss Calista Roy, chairman; Life Saving and Water Safety, Mr. E. Melville Westgate, chairman; Nutrition, Mrs. George W. Hinman, chairman; Production, Mrs. Harry F. Morse, general chairman; Miss Kathleen Cabot, chairman of Knitting, Mrs. Ernest R. Cooper, chairman of Sewing, and Mrs. (Continued on Page 6)

In these unrehearsed efficiency tests imaginary, but possible incidents, will be the basis of the exercises.

Wardens, Wardens Posts and Auxiliary Police will be alerted in the villages where the tests are being made also Medical Posts serving these areas. The Report Center, Auxiliary Firemen and all dispatching points in the city will also be alerted and will function as they would under actual air raid conditions.

Unexploded Bombs will be discussed and the precautionary measures outlined in a series of training lectures being held this month for the purpose of instructing wardens. These lectures cover the recognition of such bombs and the action to be taken by the warden should one be suspected in his area.

British experience early in the war showed that many protective services were unnecessarily called out and defense industries upset because of the inability of wardens to distinguish properly between unexploded bombs and many other types of ordnance which fall from the sky during raids.

T. Edson Jewell, Jr., Training Director, Newton ARP, is the lecturer and Robert S. Austin, Chief Bomb Reconnaissance Agent, shows a U. S. Army training film and conducts a question period.

The lectures, which are open only to the members of the Newton ARP organization, have already been given to Newton and Newton Highlands in February and in upper falls, Oak Hill, Newton Centre and Waban in early March. The remaining lectures will be held as follows: March 22 Newton High School for Newtonville and West Newton, March 23 Hamilton School for Newton Lower Falls, March 29 Lasell Seminary for Auburndale, March 30, Ward School for Chestnut Hill and Waban Hill.

The quarter finals in the Region V-C-2 Quiz Contest for District V-C-2 composed of Leucory Lexington, Arlington, Belmont, Waltham, Weston and Watertown were held March 10th.

The groups which qualified are as follows:

Wardens—Contest held in Waltham, winners Waltham and Lexington.

Auxiliary Firemen—Contest held in Watertown, winners Waltham and Watertown.

Auxiliary Police—Contest held in Belmont, winners Watertown and Lexington.

First Aid—Contest held in Arlington, winners Belmont and Waltham.

The two teams in each group meet in the Semi-finals on March 24th and the winners will compete with the successful teams of District V-C-1 at Newton High School in the finals to be held on March 31.

DUGOUT SPLINTERS

This afternoon, Newton High's classy and potent hoop team enters the annual Tech Tourney for the school's second time since the tournament began. The Orange and Black cagers have a chance to cop a berth in the semi-finals tomorrow if they beat New Bedford at 3:30 today in the second bill of an afternoon Class A basketball doubleheader at Tufts College Cousens gym, Medford. This is the first round for the schoolboy basketball championship of eastern Massachusetts.

Brockton meets Haverhill at 2:30 in what is said to be the best combination play in the first meetings. Both teams are dangerous and with one of them out by tonight, some winning club will be pleased. Attleboro and Rindge (the latter defenders of the Tech title two years straight) go on at 7:30, while Somerville (conceded to win the tourney) meets New Bedford Vocational at 8:30. Semi-finals tomorrow and finals Saturday.

Newton has had a splendid year on the court and the sports fans can safely say that this year's team was one of the best ever to play for the Orange and Black. In 13 games, they rolled up 564 points to 411 for the opposition. They won 12, lost 1 (Watertown upset them after the Newtonites had previously chalked up a win). They dominated and won the Suburban league title.

Coach Warren Huston has inspired his team to victory this season, and the lads owe it to their mentor to capture a play-off berth tomorrow night. Records mean nothing to the Newtonites. Scoring power, reserve strength, coaching, height, etc., are facts thrown out the window before the teams tap off this afternoon.

New Bedford is no easy touch. In fact, neither are the other competitive teams. It is known that when hoop squads toss baskets in tournament contests, the past is something hearsay.

Looking at the South Shore team we find that New Bedford won 11 and lost 5. Three losses were to Brockton and Attleboro, tourney entries also, and the other two were against the best Rhode Island high school teams. They have been in the past six Tech tourneys, thus know what to expect at such games. N. B. looms as a tough opponent and the game shapes up as being a hum-dinger.

This afternoon's game means a great deal to the Newton squad—because, 1. They have been working under a coach who was Newton's best athlete, a coach who came back to his home town and in his first year at the helm gave the high school a championship. The Orange and Black would surely like to win this game for the man all Newton sports fans remember—Warren Huston. 2. The track team has already won a state championship. The football squad this fall had an excellent season. Husty's men want to surpass both achievements. 3. Winning today would give the Newtonites the opportunity to go farther in their quest for making Newton the best sports city in New England.

One thing is certain. The team isn't taking anything for granted. The hoop lads recall the Newton-Brookline football game this fall. Thus, New Bedford and Newton fare as "even all" before the opening whistle sounds.

Bulldog Warmups
Newton had a 500 foul toss percentage shooting average. Opponents had 494. Thus, the free throws will mean a great deal to the quintet. Six men form a nucleus on the squad. Roger Bryant (43 points scored this season); Bill Sharpe (145); Ed Merrill (43); Capt. Hacker Martin (73); Jerry Peck (69) and Doug Teschner (118). These lads have accounted for the following scoring honors: 493 points per 13 game season; 37 points per 6 man team game; and 7 points per man during a game. According to basketball, that's something! Other lads going to the tournament are Phil Fox, Chet Pendergast, Leo Morrissey, Deek Kennedy, and Bill Hansen. Probable line-up will have, Martin and Peck at guards, Sharpe at center and Teschner teaming with Merrill at the forwards.

OUR QUOTA MUST BE MET

The 1943 War Fund Campaign is half over and we must take time to review Newton's response during the first two weeks of March.

Volunteer Campaign Workers have received splendid cooperation from the people of Newton, but too often the contributions have been reminiscent of the Red Cross membership drives. Let us all bear in mind that this is not the annual Roll Call—this is a campaign for funds to meet war emergencies. And no sum is too great to do the job before us. In peacetime, the normal membership dues of $1.00 supported our efforts, and by making such annual contributions you have enabled us to carry on the work required of us. This year, however, few of us will be—or can be—content to make such a contribution.

Through its original charter, the American Red Cross has an obligation to serve the armed forces in time of war. In this, the second World War, the Red Cross has been designated by the President of the United States as the official auxiliary to serve with our fighting men, wherever they may be. It is an humanitarian and morale-building arm upon which our service men lean heavily.

The services rendered by the Red Cross to all branches of the armed forces, both at home and abroad, must continue and be expanded. The same is true of the many services made available to the people who remain at home—services that no other organization is equipped or trained to give.

All of us know this. That is why we say that our quota for the 1943 War Fund must be met. That is why we are confident that the people of Newton will keep faith with the boys who are looking to us for support.

Charles E. Spencer, Jr., chairman of Surgical Dressings; and Roll Call Mrs. Henry T. Patch, chairman.

The exercises closed with a tableau representing the Army, Navy, Air Marine Corps, and the Red Cross Nurse—symbolic of Red Cross service to the armed forces both here and abroad, and the singing of the national anthem, led by Mr. J. Collins Lingo, director of music at the Newton High School.

Gray Ladies acted as ushers and were Mrs. Willard Wright, Mrs. John Giltner, Mrs. Samuel Wisner, Mrs. Earl Dempsey, Mrs. J. Lenox Dowd, Mrs. L. P. Hanley, Mrs. George Winchester, Mrs. Austin Bittenbender and Mrs. Ashley Wright.

The tableau, directed by Mrs. William V. M. Fawcett, included Boy Scouts Roger Peck, Donald Fife, George Fernald and Jack Weston and Miss Charity Guiney, a nurse from the Newton Hospital.

ESTABLISH STATIONS FOR BICYCLE REGISTRATION

For the convenience of the citizens of Newton, the Traffic Bureau of the Police Department with the cooperation of the Superintendent of Schools and the Safety Council is establishing stations for the registration of bicycles throughout the city of Newton from April 1st to April 15th. Beginning with April 15th the registration of bicycles will be compulsory and riders will be stopped if the plate is not attached.

Registration costs 25 cents. This includes a plate with screws. Should the plate be lost, a new one may be secured at a cost of 10 cents by applying to the Traffic Bureau at the Police Station.

Application blanks and leaflets will be given children at the schools. The blanks should be filled out by the parents and taken by the children to the registration place on the date assigned to their district or to the City Hall on April 1st. Adult registration may be at the Police Station or the schools.

Capt. Peter Killed In North Africa

Announcement was made by the War Department on Tuesday that Capt. Howard L. Peter, husband of Mrs. Enid Margaret Peter of 45 Brae Burn road, Auburndale, had been killed in action in North Africa on January 28. Mrs. Peter had been officially notified on Feb. 28 of her husband's death, and since then has received word from the War Department that he had been awarded posthumously the Order of the Purple Heart, and the medal would be sent to her.

Capt. Peter was graduated from West Point in 1940. He was born in Allentown, Pa. on Sept. 17, 1917, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. Peter. He attended the Allentown High school and prepared for West Point at Stanton Academy, Cornwall - on - the - Hudson. Before going overseas he was stationed at Fort Devens, Camp Blanding, Fort Benning, Ga., and Plattsburg. Upon his promotion to captain he was made intelligence officer of his regiment shortly before they went overseas in August. They were the first troops to invade North Africa at Oran last November.

Mrs. Peter is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. White of Auburndale. Her father is a member of the firm of White-Smith, Boston music publishers. She attended Dana Hall and Bryn Mawr, and left college a year ago to marry Captain Peter.

Besides his wife and his parents, Capt. Peter is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alice Eaton, wife of Maj. Joseph J. Eaton of Birmingham, Alabama and Miss Gloria Peter of Allentown, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Cora A. Peter of Allentown and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice V. Leily of Jordan, Pa.

Seek More Purchases For Rescue Boat

Devastated view of an aircraft rescue boat, one of a number built for the United States Navy to aid flyers forced down at sea. The small, speedy craft has facilities for first aid and some are fitted out with salvage equipment.—Official U. S. Navy Photograph.

An Aircraft Rescue Boat is being sponsored by the Women's Division of the Newton War Savings Committee. This group of Volunteer workers are setting up many new booths in banks throughout the City. $50,000 in War Savings "E" Bonds and Stamps must be sold from March 27th to April 19th if the project is to be successful. The boat when commissioned will have a plaque on the inside which will read "Sponsored by the Citizens of Newton and each City is entitled to only one such honor. Stresses Need For Many More Nurses

At the third meeting of the Newton Committee on Nursing for War Service held on March 15, many interesting reports on various phases of nursing service in Newton were given by different members of the committee.

Miss Mabel McKicker, director of the School of Nursing, gave a report of the Newton nurses who have already joined the armed services. A complete list of these nurses will be given in a later article.

One of the immediate functions of this committee will be the recruitment of nurses for the Army and Navy. The National quota for the United States is three thousand nurses per month, and for Massachusetts alone one hundred and sixty-three.

It was disappointing to learn that nurses had not responded very well to the National questionnaire sent out by the Massachusetts State Nurses Association. The committee wishes to announce that by filling out these questionnaires the nurses are not assuming any obligation for service.

Further meetings of the committee are to be held monthly, and it is expedient that all questions pertaining to nursing be referred either to the chairman, Miss Grace Lawrence, BIGelow 4700 or the secretary, Miss Hilga S. Nelson, BIGelow 4880.

FRANCIS P. FRAZIER NAMED TO SELECTIVE SERVICE BD.

Francis P. Frazier, a member of the Newton School Committee and commander of Newton Post, American Legion, has been appointed a member of Selective Service Board 112 of Newton to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of William J. Doherty.

Mr. Frazier is a veteran of World War I. He is a submaster and teacher at a junior high school in East Boston. His home is at 127 Pearl st., Newton.

Other members of Board 112 are Judge Thomas Weston, chairman, Edwin O. Childs, Maxwell P. Gaddis, Donald M. Hill and Roger Tyler, appeal agent.

Red Cross War Fund Now At $75,000

Industrial Division Exceeds Quota By 25 Percent—All Urged To Contribute During The Final Days of Drive

With only ten days more to go in the War Fund Campaign, Newton has raised $75,000, it has been announced by Charles B. Floyd, chairman of the committee. "In looking over some old files of newspapers," said Mr. Floyd, "I came across an item from a 1917 issue that stated 'Newtonites gave nearly $100,000 to the war fund drive.' It must be remembered that the war relief campaign in 1917 was held in addition to the annual Roll Call drive. And the citizens of Newton gave almost as much as they are asked to raise today! This year, in fairness to the public, it was decided to omit the Membership Drive and have but one campaign. Our quota is $115,000. Newton can, and will, respond as it did in the first World War. The need for Red Cross has grown great—and the Red Cross need for your help has grown greater."

Mr. Floyd added that accelerated activity by the volunteer campaign workers over the past week-end has been very encouraging. He also commended the work of the Industrial Division under the leadership of Thomas V. Cleveland. This group has exceeded its quota by 25 per cent. However, he said, the success of this campaign depends not alone on the workers but on the thousands of Newton citizens who can make it possible for us to raise the necessary money. If they give, and give as much as they can, to their own Newton Chapter, we will have no trouble in putting this drive over.

They All Look to Red Cross

Last fall, a Newton boy—John W. Keller, Jr., of the Coast Guard—was on duty guarding docks in a town far from home. It was very cold, and he and his buddies wanted some extra warm clothing. They didn't go to the supply division of their company but instinctively turned to the one organization they knew of—that "never lets a fellow down"—the American Red Cross. There, they were outfitted with extra knitted helmets, stockings and watch caps. Their faith in Red Cross was justified.

Two other Newton boys, Mark and Coleman, twin sons of Mr. Mary Conroy of 67 Pearl st., Newton, know what Red Cross means to our men on the fighting front. They represent two of the five stars on Mrs. Conroy's service flag, and are Corporals in the Army Engineers somewhere in the South Pacific. The twins fought in Buna, where they were separated for several weeks. After a long silence of four months, Mrs. Conroy received a cable, sent through Red Cross channels, which read, "Together again and safe." This was followed by a V-mail letter and in it the boys said: "We can't thank the American Red Cross for taking care of the last cable you received. They collected it here, and sent it from Australia. They also gave each man a Christmas box. Other than that, we would never know it was Christmas Day here. We are in good health and take good care of ourselves, so try and not worry too much. Just keep praying as in the past and with the help of God, this may be over soon."

This is the spirit of our boys—yours and mine—at the front. They depend on Red Cross—and Red Cross depends on you to give as generously as you can to your own Chapter War Fund.

Lt. Anderson Is Reported Killed In Action

Second Lieut. Hazen Smith Anderson of the U. S. Army Air Forces, and a former resident of West Newton, has been reported as killed in action in the European area on March 12 according to a cablegram received here last week.

Lieut. Anderson has served overseas since October 1940, having enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force in September of that year. On Dec. 9, 1942, he transferred to the U. S. Air Force and was commissioned a lieutenant. He is a graduate of the Newton High School, class of 1935, and had been employed at the Rohmer Wool Scouring Company in Newton prior to his enlistment.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Anderson now reside at 171 Central ave., Needham, and a brother, Frank W. Anderson, Jr., resides at 302 Derby st., West Newton.

Aldermen Approved Budget Recommended By Finance Committee

The Newton Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night voted to pass the 1943 budget as recommended by the Finance Committee. The budget aggregates $5,407,761.34 which includes $5,089,786.31 to be taken from general revenue and the Water Department budget of $317,975.03 which is to be taken from water revenue. These figures are $51,035.82 less than the amount recommended by Mayor Goddard for the general budget and $5,851.08 less than the amount recommended by him for the Water Department budget.

The budget figures passed on Monday night are in addition to $303,532.32 previously appropriated for the general budget which included $218,000 from the 8 per cent bonus granted recently to city employees and $12,643.00 already appropriated for the water department which included $12,000 for the bonus.

The budget passed was exactly as recommended by the Finance Committee. An item of $750 recommended for incidentals in the Police Department is for the purchase of red reflectors to be distributed to bicycle owners when the compulsory registration of bicycles goes into effect. The law requires bicycle owners to attach these reflectors to the rear of their bicycles, and due to war time shortages it would be practically impossible for owners to obtain them. Arrangements have been made by the chief of police to supply them and the city will be reimbursed for the amount expended for them in the form of registration fees.

Alderman Carroll J. Hoffman voted "No" on the entire city budget and led an attack on the budgets of the street and school departments charging that the City of Newton has the highest per pupil cost of any municipality in the state and spends more for highways than any other city excepting Boston and Worcester. Joseph B. Jamieson, vice-president of the board and chairman of the public works committee, said it was unfair to compare the highway costs of Newton with other places because Newton residents demanded certain services and a comparison should include an analysis of the services given. Chairman Lockwood also defended the department declaring that the number of miles of streets and other factors should be considered rather than the population alone. Alderman Charles Hughes stated that in view of the decrease in traffic he had expected to see a larger cut in the budget of that department.

Aldermen Inches, Alexander and Everts voted against the salary increase granted the Superintendent of street department garage and Alderman Inches voted against a raise for the mechanic-foreman in that department.

Russian Relief Committee Formed

A Russian War Relief Committee has been formed in the Newtons, with Mayor Paul M. Goddard as honorary chairman, for the purpose of sending medical supplies, blankets, and warm clothing to our Russian Allies. This is part of a country-wide drive. Already 4,000,000 garments have been shipped and personal greetings are attached to each garment which do more to cement friendly relations between the two countries than any amount of impersonal supplies and convey a deep sense of American appreciation for Russian heroism.

This drive fills an urgent need at this particular time. Millions of persons are returning to homes devastated by German occupation. The Newton drive will take place from April 2-12. All local fire stations will be receiving centers. Clothing of all sorts, provided it is in reasonably good repair, will be gratefully received there. For further information tel. Las. 3596.

Chairman of the Committee furthering the drive is Mrs. Harold B. Cranshaw. Others working with her are:

Mesdames Austin Benton, Wm. Cahill, Edward A. Cooney, Brewer Eddy, Frank A. Day, Jr., Albert P. Everts, F. Leslie Ford, Charles B. Floyd, Paul M. Goddard, Roland E. Howe, Wm. F. King, Howard M. Le Sourd, S. A. Levine, Donald D. McKay, F. Ward Paine, Horace W. Shepard, M. N. Smith, Petersen, C. A. Snow, Roger Valenburgh, Henry Warren, Sinclair Weeks, Joseph F. Wogan, and Misses M. Louise Walworth and Katherine Wilkins.

High School To Present Course Of Study To Fit Pupils To Do Utmost In Winning The War

In accordance with the national war effort and the present war employment emergency, Newton High School is planning to inaugurate in the fall of 1943 a course of study which would fit all pupils in their respective positions where they would be doing their utmost towards winning the war. Taken at a glance, the new and revised high school curriculum is divided into four separate plans of study.

Curriculum I consists of two plans, A and B, the former for pupils planning to enter colleges which require College Entrance Examinations, and the latter designed for pupils planning to enter colleges that admit by certificate grades. This new scheme embraces all those subjects which previously were included under the Language, Mathematics and Certificate Courses.

In addition to the existing programs of subjects under this curriculum, it is also possible for pupils to include part-time pre-induction courses such as Aeronautics, Electricity, Typewriting, Drafting and Printing which would take place both during and after regular school hours.

Curriculum II which supersedes the so-called Academic courses is designed especially for those pupils who plan to continue their education beyond high school in teachers' colleges, business colleges, junior colleges, schools of nursing, and music schools. It is also possible for students to take under this plan the extra-curricular pre-induction courses mentioned above under Curriculum I.

Curriculum III is divided into three separate programs called A, B and C. A is a cooperative plan whereby a boy or girl spends alternative weeks in high school and trade school preparing for a job in industry, while at the same time securing a high school diploma and a trade school certificate. Studies under this program include English, History, Science, Mathematics, and Mechanical Drawing in the High School coupled with carpentry, electricity, welding and other industrial courses in the trade school.

Plan B under Curriculum III is intended for those pupils who desire a course with emphasis upon industrial arts for boys and general home economics for girls.

Plan C is prepared for girls who intend to enter the field of retail selling. In the senior year part of the training is given through actual job experience in retail stores. Girls may transfer to this curriculum in the 11th and 12th grades with the consent of the guidance department.

Finally, Curriculum IV is proposed especially for those boys and girls who wish to enter the field of business and office work. In the junior and senior years two plans would be introduced into this curriculum: plan A for boys and girls who plan to be bookkeepers, clerks, and general office workers, and plan B for boys and girls who plan to be stenographers.

Perhaps the most outstanding and unique aspect in the new school war-time emergency programme is the great emphasis being placed on the physical education and pre-induction courses.

All pupils in all curriculums are required to take physical education. Sophomore boys will have two periods per week with one credit given; junior boys, three periods per week with one and one-half credits given, and senior boys, four times per week with two credits given. Also grade X girls will receive two periods of gym weekly with junior and senior girls having it three times weekly.

All pupils are being urged strongly to include a pre-induction course on their schedule of studies. This addition, it is stated, will not only add to the pupils' accomplishments and increase the number of credits needed for graduation, but may also make him or her better able to assume a position in our national war effort and thus bring victory so much closer.

If You're Planning A Vegetable Garden

REMEMBER some seeds and plants may be set out early, while the ground is still cool; others must wait until warmer weather.

COOL WEATHER will not harm the following vegetables. Seeds and plants may be set out side when the temperature is around 45 degrees in the shade, and even an occasional light frost won't harm them.

Asparagus	Kohi Rabi
Beets	Leek
Broccoli	Lettuce
Brussels
Sprouts
Cabbage	Onion
Carrots	Parsley
Cauliflower	Parsnip
Celery	Peas
Endive	Radish
Kale	Spinach
Turnip

WARMER WEATHER with a temperature of 60 degrees in the shade is necessary for safe outdoor planting of the following vegetables:

Beans	Okra
Corn	Pepper
Cucumber	Pumpkin
Egg Plant	Squash
Melon	Tomato

GET THE MOST from your garden by planning to grow second crops on ground left vacant by the harvesting of early maturing vegetables.

CORN rows should be planted with pumpkins or vine squash in mid-June. You will get a nice crop of these vegetables without interfering with the productive-ness of the corn.

PEAS, if early varieties, will be over by mid-June. Celery plants may then be set out. Late peas, removed from the ground in early July should be followed by Ruta Baga and Late Turnips.

BUSH BEANS sown in mid-May may be cleared off the ground in July, and Cauliflower and Cabbage plants may then be set out.

CABBAGE and CAULIFLOWER plants set out in April or May will be off the ground by August. Then a late crop of Bush Beans may be had from the same ground.

BEETS of the earlier kinds will be off the ground by August, when there is still time to sow Spinach for a fall crop.

SPINACH sown in April and May will be over by mid-June, in ample time to get a crop of Carrots off the same ground.

WHEN WILL THOSE VEGETABLES BE READY FOR USE?

"How long will I have to wait before I can use them?" you ask yourself as you sow the seed. This table tells you the time required under average garden conditions. Keep it for reference.

A list of city owned parcels of land suitable for cultivation as Victory Gardens has been prepared by Recreation Commissioner F. Ewing Wilson who is working in cooperation with the Nutrition-Gardening - Preservation Committee. Among lots which he plans to use are some four to six acres of the Alameda land which was purchased several years ago for playground purposes, also land adjoining the Angier School in Waban. Offers of land aggregating 50 to 60 acres have also been received from private owners.

The Recreation Department tractors will be used to plow land included in the public garden projects and the commissioner has a list of persons who may be hired to plow private land at the owner's expense. These lists may be obtained from Commissioner Wilson.

Newton Flier Is White House Guest

Flying Officer J. Wilbur Keller, R. A. F., son of Commander and Mrs. Harold Keller of Sheffield rd., Newtonville, arrived in this country Friday, March 12, by plane from Africa. He was met in Washington by his wife, the former Natalie Coolidge of Boston, where they were guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House together with Sir Anthony Eden, Lord and Lady Halifax, Sir John Dill and other British notables. Flying Officer Keller is here with confidential material from the British government. After two weeks leave with his family he will return to Africa, where he has already served as a pilot of "spit-fires" for nearly two years.

VICTORY GARDENS

It is advisable to do all "clean-up" work at this season of the year in order to be able to proceed with your Victory Garden plans when Spring really opens. At this time of year the oak leaves are dropping off the trees to make way for the new growth of leaves. The old ones clutter around drain pipes, under shrubbery, in garden paths; in fact, look around and you will find many in the way to hinder both appearance and growth of perennial beds and shrubs. Begin to uncover your garden now, rake up all debris from your yards and plan to burn it, taking all precautions against spread of fire. Care in this regard will protect your property and that of your neighbor and save many unnecessary trips for the firemen.

HIGHEST BIRTH RATE IN 1942

The report of the Newton Health Department shows that the birth rate in Newton last year was 16 per 1,000 estimated population, the highest rate since 1928, when the rate was 17 per 1,000. Furthermore it revealed that the birth rate in 1942 was the largest in the history of the city. Since 1928 the rate had decreased until a low of 12.3 was reached in 1936. Since then the trend had been slightly upward. The birth figures for 1942 are subject to slight corrections upward as there have undoubtedly been births which have occurred in outside cities that have not yet been recorded. The infant mortality rate among infants under 1 year of age per 1,000 of live births, was only 20 which is the second lowest in the history of the city. Only 23 infant deaths were recorded in 1942.

NEWTON POST INDUCTS ITS VETERAN OF WORLD WAR II

Richard E. Benton of 58 Falmouth rd., Newton, who received an Honorable Discharge from the Army Air Corps on Feb. 19, became the first veteran of World War II to be inducted into membership into Newton Post, No. 48, American Legion, at the last meeting of Newton Post, on March 18.

REAL ESTATE

Final papers have gone to record in the transfer of title to the property located 94 Hyde ave., Newton. This parcel comprises 10,000 square feet of nicely landscaped grounds, together with a new single residence of 7 rooms, tiled bath, first floor lavatory and attached garage. The house and attached garage have an exceptionally fine Munson slate roof. Heat is forced hot water. The land is a portion of what was formerly the Bentley estate at the corner of Sargent st. and Hyde ave. Title was given by Mary Regan of Somerville to John D. Stealy and Leli D. Stealy of Hollisburg, Pa. This sale was negotiated by Howe Associates, Newton Centre Realtors, who represented both parties in the transaction.

The office of Alvord Bros. reports much interest in the purchase of homes in Newton, Wellesley and Weston. Among one of the outstanding sales in the above territories is a property located at 59 Thackeray rd., Wellesley Hills, recently constructed by one of Wellesley's foremost builders, John E. Lundquist, in the popular Longfellow Estates. The premises consist of a liberal lot of land of approximately 16,000 square feet, with a new, frame, Colonial house facing southwesterly, and set slightly above the street on Thackeray rd. with a built-in garage which opens to Emerson st. The dwelling contains eight rooms, two tile baths, a tile lavatory, and excellent open porch. A feature of the property is an exceptionally well-designed kitchen, with space for loose breakfast furniture; there are ample cupboards, and a quaint casement window with Venetian blinds, over the sink. The premises have recently been sold by William H. Burhop, of Wisconsin. The real estate has not as yet been completely assessed. Alvord Bros. represented all parties in the transaction.

NEWTON MAN COMMANDER OF C. G. CUTTER CAMPBELL

Commander James A. Hirshfield of 33 Wesley rd., Newton, was the commander of the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Campbell which rammed a large German submarine and attacked five other U-boats in the North Atlantic recently.

Commander Hirshfield, who is 40 years of age, was graduated from the Coast Guard Academy as an ensign in 1924, and was assigned to sea duty for the following 10 years. In 1933 he was commissioned a lieutenant and became an instructor of Spanish at the academy in New London, Conn. After graduating from the George Washington University he was promoted to Lieutenant Commander in 1939 and was advanced to commander in August 1942.

He was born in Cincinnati but was brought up in San Antonio, Texas. His wife is the former Marjorie Prentiss, daughter of Mrs. Arthur V. Prentiss of New London, Conn. They have two children, Katherine 6, and James Jr., 4.

Gives Outline Of Needs For Good Vegetable Crops

Thomas Burns, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the local Kiwanis Club reported at the meeting last Tuesday that he had arranged for a number of plots in Newton to be used as Victory Gardens.

President James Riggs announced the appointment of Otis R. Heath as chairman of the Sick and Welfare Committee.

It was announced that the New England District Governor of Kiwanis, Rob Roy, would attend the missionary celebration of the local club which will be held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, April 20.

The speaker last Tuesday was Paul W. Dempsey, horticulturist at the Massachusetts State College Field Station in Waltham. Mr. Dempsey stated that the local field station first had its start in Lexington in 1917. In 1924 it moved to its present location in Waltham. The present organization consists of a large laboratory, office building, green houses, experimental acreage and seven research men.

Mr. Dempsey stated that the Massachusetts Field Station in Waltham is really the headquarters for garden information, that as experimental projects progressed, various bulletins were made available. He said that some projects took more than eight years to complete.

In backyard gardening he emphasized that in order to be successful sunshine should strike the plot practically all day and there should be no tall trees or other shade nearby. The best soil is a dark-colored fertile loam. Where there was a clay soil or a sandy soil with practically no humus, he recommended not planting a garden as the results would not be worth the cost of seeds, fertilizer and labor. He suggested planting only part of the garden at a time and short rows, only the quantity which would be actually consumed by the family.

In watering a garden he said it should not be watered more than twice a week but should be thoroughly soaked each time.

Mr. Benjamin Louis, chairman of the Program Committee, announced that the speaker next week would be Mr. Frank H. Damon, president of the Damon Hall Junior College.

THE AUBURNDALE REVIEW CLUB

The Review Club held an unusually interesting meeting on Tuesday morning, March 16, when it met with Miss Margaret Haskell at 5 Vista ave.

Mrs. Louis F. Billings, chairman of the morning, read a very delightful paper on "Chinese Embroidery."

Mrs. John Williams devoted her half hour to happenings in the life of Mrs. Alice Brown Frame but mostly to reading charming letters from her written to friends in America while she was engaged in educational work in China.

Mrs. Albert Palmateer's subject was "Chinese Poetry." The Chinese never wrote long poems. Ten or twelve lines were the usual length. Mrs. Palmateer read several of these short poems, expressing beautiful sentiments.

The Review Club will hold its last program meeting for this season on Tuesday, March 23, at 5 Vista ave., at ten a. m. Tuesday, March 30.

The usual three papers will be read "The Chiangs," by Mrs. Edward P. Kelly; "The Great Trek," by Mrs. Fardivel; "Dawn Watch in China," by Mrs. Leland.

AMBROSE M. FULLER

Mr. Ambrose M. Fuller, 93, oldest retired member of the Newton Police Force, passed away on Wednesday, March 17, at his home 20 Linden st., Newton Upper Falls.

Mr. Fuller was born in Fayette, Maine, on February 25, 1850, son of Alphonse P. and Sarah Van Rostenberg, Waban Hill, Mass. Daniel White Jr., Newton, Mass. Mary Austin, Nonantum.

On March 31, the winners of these four groups will meet the finalists from the other section of Region C-5.

A meeting of the Village Chairman of the War Servs Division took place at the residence of Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, 160 Dartmouth st., West Newton, on Friday, March 19, at which time the new "Nutrition-Gardening-Preservation" program for Newton was explained and discussed. Mrs. D. Allen Smith chairman of this "Victory Garden" project made an appeal for all existing organizations in each village—in the interest in gardening and canning—to coordinate their efforts towards the great task of producing sturdy vegetables for year round consumption.

N. G. P. Chairman for each village will be appointed to work with the central committee and avoid duplication of effort in the different sections of the city.

Through the Neighborhood Leaders of the War Service Division, bulletins containing information about Victory Gardens will be distributed shortly.

In preparation for the series of village tests, William V. M. Fawcett, Director of the Protection Division, called a meeting of the heads of the various services on Thursday evening, March 18th, at the Brae Burn Country Club. At this meeting Mr. Sydney B. Holden, Director of Testing, who had worked out the plan for these tests, explained them in detail. He went over the test as a whole and then gave particular instructions to each of the services which will participate. This being the first series of tests in many months in which all of the services will participate, there was an interesting discussion of the problems involved.

The equipment of the regular fire and police departments will not move in these exercises. The Auxiliary Fire Department, however, will be mobilized each evening in all of the regular fire stations throughout the city and auxiliary equipment will roll to the various "incidents" reported by the wardens as due to incendiaries and high explosive bombs.

The Auxiliary Police units will be mobilized at their command posts and will immediately be dispatched to the scenes of simulated unexploded bombs or where other damage has made it necessary to block off a street. Only the vehicles participating in the test and carrying white flags will be stopped at these imaginary road

FEDERAL VICTORY GARDEN CAMPAIGN

The Federal Victory Garden Campaign has gained ground in the Newtons where hundreds of homes will grow their first vegetable gardens this year. Food rationing and shortages will hold no fears for the family that is growing a large supply of its own food.

Little Tree Farms in Framingham Center is prepared to supply every gardening need for the production of food plants. The big glass house on Pleasant st. has been remodelled during the winter to conserve fuel and now includes the officers of the farm. This civilization will assure greater speed in filling all orders. The nursery and landscape department are also active and Little Tree Farms remains one of the popular garden centers of New England.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Donald D. McKay will be hostess to the Newton Highlands Garden Club at her home, 46 Woodcliff rd., Tuesday, March 30, 1943, 7:45 p. m. Mr. Sidney G. Kimpton will speak on "Vegetables."

Sgt. (T) DiMuzio Given Air Medal

Technical Sergt. Carmen C. DiMuzio, air engineer with an American bomber squadron in North Africa, has been awarded an air medal, according to an announcement made by the War Department.

Sergt. DiMuzio is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cesidio DiMuzio of 32 Beecher place, Newton Centre. He is 27 years of age, was born in Pittsburgh, Pa. and attended the Newton Trade School. He joined the army in January 1942 and after graduating from a technical training school for airplane mechanics was assigned to a bomber. He was sent to England in June of last year and was transferred to North Africa in December.

He has two brothers, Sergt. Aurelio J. DiMuzio, who is with the Army Medical Corps at Camp Pickett, Va. and Ernest DiMuzio and one sister, Miss Adelaide DiMuzio.

A Lecture on Christian Science entitled Christian Science: The Science of Divine Completeness

by
DR. HENDRIK J. de LANGE, C.S.B., of New York City
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

An interested audience gathered at First Church of Christ, Scientist of Newton on Tuesday evening to listen to a lecture by Dr. Hendrik J. de Lange, C.S.B., of New York, who spoke on the subject "Christian Science: The Science of Divine Completeness." The lecturer was introduced by Edmunds P. Lingham, First Reader, who said—

"As he thinketh in his heart, so is he," says the Proverb. Every one of us, wittingly or otherwise, is a living witness to those innermost thoughts that motivate every word and action. In the matter of health, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and the author of its textbook, states it this way: "You embrace your body in your thought, and should delineate upon its thoughts of health, not of sickness." (Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, page 208.) "This is an acceptable line of reasoning. But when it comes to actually controlling our thoughts so that we may enjoy healthy bodies, we need more than 'wishful thinking.'" Christian Science presents a comprehensible and demonstrable system of healing based upon the scientific relation of God and man, as revealed in the Bible, and explained in the textbook from which I have just quoted.

Twenty years ago it became very necessary to do something about our thinking, when the doctors stated, after an operation upon a member of my immediate family, that the case was hopeless. We turned to Christian Science as our only hope, and through the help of a loving Practitioner, complete and permanent healing resulted. Needless to say, we wanted to know how such a system of healing functioned, and we took up the study of Christian Science in earnest. Through the ensuing years, Christian Science has been our physician, and has brought us victoriously through many and varied experiences. Tonight we are to hear from an able and qualified witness who will explain how Christian Science operates in human affairs. In behalf of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, I welcome you to the lecture, and it gives me great pleasure to introduce Dr. Hendrik J. de Lange, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, who will address us on the subject: "Christian Science: The Science of Divine Completeness." Dr. de Lange, the lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Existence is irrefragable! Mankind's struggles may be fierce, its prospects appalling; nevertheless, the will to live cannot be extinguished. How is this explained? By pointing to mankind's innate conviction that, in the last analysis, the human picture of existence is not final, is not true. The conviction that ultimately life must be worth while living; that existence, instead of being dreary and discordant, must be sparkling and spontaneous. The conviction that existence, instead of being deficient and filled with frustration, must be complete and satisfying. The conviction that this completeness of existence— and thereby its goodness—must be within one's reach; must be the substance of one's own real and everlasting selfhood. Were this not so, even the faintest longing for life, peace, satisfaction could not have stirred the heart of humanity.

The Lecture's Purpose

The purpose of this lecture is to explain that Christian Science is the Science of Divine Completeness, and that this completeness is the true and original status of man as he really is. We are here to experience the enlightenment, the health, the strength, the satisfaction, and serene happiness of divine completeness which is the very opposite of the human.

Mankind's Quandary and Mistake

In order to do this, let us begin by drawing your attention to the fact that mankind has from within its mortal sense no explanation for itself or of itself. Mankind neither knows from where it comes, nor from where its hopes and aspirations arise.

However, of one thing it is sure. With the recognition of its own restrictions and imperfections, mankind senses that ultimate goodness, perfection, completeness, do not originate from within its own confining borders. These ideals must come from elsewhere.

In its immaturity of discernment, mankind has objectified its ideals. First, in its human heroes. Later on, by immortalizing them, in its gods. Finally, in the concept of one god, to be looked for somewhere afar off in the vast stretches of material space designated as heaven.

Anthropomorphism Exposed

The inner urge to think extended the scope of mankind's ideals, and simultaneously, exposed its own limitations. After all, the gods of the Greek were only magnificent, magnified mortals. They were swayed by the same passions and touched by the same vanities as their human prototypes. The Jehovah of the Jews, however, one and almighty, was far superior to the fancied inhabitants of Mount Olympus. Nevertheless, Jehovah knew mortals. The Old Testament does not leave any uncertainty on the subject. Hereby he was tinged with mortality. He sent them punishment and praise—more often the former than the latter. Thus Jehovah was tinged with limitation and sin.

The tendency to ascribe human qualities to Deity is instigated by the fear that otherwise the gulf separating mortals from the divine would be entirely impassable. Only when that which has been accustomed to think of itself as mortal yielded to the divine could the primal cause of existence be revealed as it really is, untouched by any human hypotheses.

Christ Jesus' Epochal Advent

Here is the significance of the advent of Christ Jesus. Rightly, the Christian world has considered his appearance as epochal. Rightly, the revolution he started, changing the concepts of mankind, has been made the beginning of a new era in human history—the Christian era.

Christ Jesus' concept of God is entirely free from any human speculation. It is no longer an attempt to pattern the divine after the human. His message is a constant admonition to leave the human for the divine, with the assurance that it cannot be a loss but must be a gain. The last obdurate traces of anthropomorphism vanish in the Christ-light of spiritual understanding.

Explaining the primal cause and thereby the true nature of existence, he told the woman of Samaria, "God is Spirit" (Revised Version), "and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." Herein he recognized that God is Truth. He also discerned that God is Life eternal. He taught John that "God is love."

The Divergence Between the Divine and the Human

The Nazarene showed the marked difference between the divine and the human: the divine understood as infinite, perfect, eternal, self-existent, all-inclusive, complete; the human appearing as finite, imperfect, temporal, destructible, exclusive of almost everything, hence incomplete. The allness of the divine includes its universe. The smallness of the human excludes its universe. Here is the divergence, according to human reckoning, just as forbidding as the "great gulf fixed" between Lazarus in heaven and Dives in hell.

How to do away with this gulf? How to experience the divine? To provide an enlightening and satisfying answer to these questions has been the purpose of true religion and philosophy. Inevitably, every thinker is confronted with them. He must answer. Otherwise he has missed the purpose of life and the reason for his existence.

Mary Baker Eddy's Discovery

In the year 1866, a devout and spiritually-minded American woman, known to the world today as Mary Baker Eddy, found the answer. Her previous forty odd years of human existence had been of manifold vicissitudes. She discovered the nature of her real being in her true understanding of God.

The unselfish grandeur and depth of her discernment enabled her to explain the discovery to others. She named it Christian Science. She perceived that she was not dealing with personal opinions objectified in visionary ideals. She was dealing with scientific facts, the divine law, immutable, eternal, and universal in application.

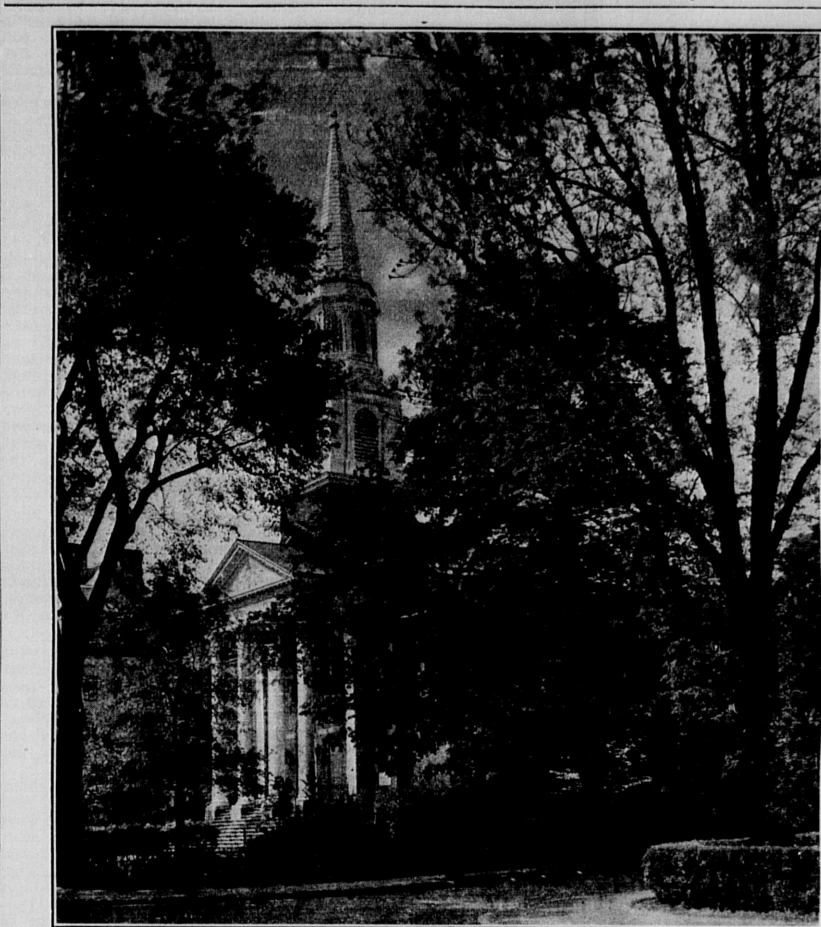

Let us use Mrs. Eddy's own description of her discovery from her autobiography, entitled "Retrospection and Introspection" (p. 25): "I named it Christian, because it is compassionate, helpful, and spiritual. God I called immortal Mind. That which sins, suffers, and dies, I named mortal mind. The physical senses, or sensuous nature, I called error and shadow. Soul I denominated substance, because Soul alone is truly substantial. God I characterized as individual entity, but His corporeality I denied. The real I claimed as eternal; and its antipodes, or the temporal, I described as unreal. Spirit I called the reality; and matter, the unreality."

Originality of Textbook

The impulse to give her discovery to mankind was irresistible. Hence Mrs. Eddy published a book in the year 1875, called "Science and Health." It was "hopelessly original," as she discerned (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 35). Misunderstanding her point of view, the critics prophesied its early oblivion. Due to the tireless activities and penetrating insight of the author, a few simple New England people became interested. The book survived. It was revised and made into the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Later on, its editions multiplied rapidly. Nowadays there is no book existent, with exception of the Bible, that is more earnestly studied and widely read than this volume.

In her compassionate greatness, she was willing to meet the brunt of pains and scant compensations attached to it. In a letter to The Christian Science Board of Lectureship (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous, p. 249), which this Board cherishes as one of its most prized possessions, she declared: "Millions may know that I am the Founder of Christian Science. I alone know what that means."

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, NEWTON, MASS.

If you wish to overcome that which you humanly appear to be and to experience what you divinely are, you cannot do better than to study Science and Health in connection with the Holy Scriptures to which this textbook gives the key of spiritual enlightenment. Read daily the Lesson Sermon for the next Sunday church service, consisting of citations from both books.

Scientific Approach to Bible

The scientific approach of Christian Science has done a great deal for the clarification of the Bible. Recognizing the temporal as unreal and the eternal as real, a scientific discrimination becomes possible when reading the Bible. Wherever a statement occurs not in agreement with God's nature, as defined by Christ Jesus, you are dealing with a human concept, with the relative. You do not accept it as real, but recognize it as something about which to know the truth. Wherever a statement is found revealing the true nature of God, you know it to be true here and now. It is divine, hence actual, and independent of time, place, person. Moreover, you are aware that these statements unfold the truth about yourself, and you accept them as such without any mental reservation.

Human Mind's Unreality

In accepting this, the reality, substantiality, and actuality of human thought are gradually receding into the fabulous precincts of mortal imagination. Truth is discovered to be far more real, substantial, and tangible than ever before. Divine Principle explains all true knowledge as Science. In the monumental wording of the textbook (p. 126): "All Science is divine. Human thought never projected the least portion of true being. Human belief has sought and interpreted in its own way the echo of Spirit, and so seems to have reversed it and repeated it materially; but the human mind never produced a real tone nor sent forth a positive sound."

Glossary Impersonalizes Scriptures

The chapter called "Glossary" in the textbook (pp. 579-599), providing the spiritual interpretation of a number of names and expressions occurring in the Scriptures, should be frequently consulted. You will note how everything in the Glossary is impersonally interpreted as states and qualities of thought.

Through this scientific method of study, the Book of books has received a new meaning and interest for countless Christian Scientists. The person of average schooling should be acquainted with the historical background of the Scriptures and its characters. No other compilation has ever exercised such an influence in shaping the Western world. However, the main value of the Bible is in its manifold illustrations of the availability of divine power by which the human yields to the divine.

Christian Science Organization

Mrs. Eddy was divinely inspired to start an organization. Its purpose was and is to help the receptive thought, through mutual aid and co-operation, in showing forth what Christian Science is, and how to live it.

The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, was founded in Boston, Massachusetts. Under the provision of the Manual of The Mother Church, branch Churches of Christ, Scientists, sprang up. They are now existent in many parts of the civilized world. These churches maintain Reading Rooms where you can study and ponder the divine facts of your being in quietude and under harmonious conditions.

Mrs. Eddy is the Founder of Christian Science and the Leader of the Christian Science movement. She lovingly undertook the pioneer work with the manifold pains and scant compensations attached to it. In a letter to The Christian Science Board of Lectureship (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous, p. 249), which this Board cherishes as one of its most prized possessions, she declared: "Millions may know that I am the Founder of Christian Science. I alone know what that means."

Right Recognition

Christian Science reveals the divine as the real, the only. This means that you have to reject the human, limited sense about yourself and what appears as your universe, as unreal and illegitimate. You have to identify yourself with the divine, or, better still, recognize the divine as your true status. Problems are solved and also prevented in this way. In the above-mentioned letter to the Board of Lectureship, this pertinent statement is made—just as essential for an audience as for a member of this Board delivering the lecture (p. 248): "Your highest inspiration is found nearest the divine Principle and nearest the scientific expression of Truth."

Woman at Well Typical

The woman here recorded is typical of the generally accepted theory about man being a human person craving for completeness. Jesus told her that material things could not ultimately satisfy her. Said he: "Whosoever drinketh of this water [from Jacob's well] shall thirst again; but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

Naturally the woman was aroused. She harbored a wrong sense of completeness. The Nazarene quickly discovered it and lovingly, but candidly, rebuked her. She felt the loving intent, took the correction, and became receptive for the true concept of completeness.

Gleaning the truth of Jesus' statements, the woman said, "I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things." She saw that the advent of the Messiah meant the explanation of existence as it really or divinely is, in all its satisfying beauty and beautifying satisfaction.

Christ Satisfies

Christ Jesus plainly answered the woman, "I that speak unto thee am he." Understanding she recognized this "I" was not personal, human, material. It was Christ, the divine acknowledgment of her own real being. This spiritual understanding began to well up within her as the recognition of her divine status, "springing up into everlasting life."

ties himself with lack and incompleteness. The material things he needs appear mostly outside of his volition and dominion. They yield only in part, often reluctantly or not at all, to his cravings for completeness. Thus his attitude is one of striving to get. Conceiving of everything as material—and that means limited—he thinks in terms of numbers. He imagines himself to live in a universe of persons. To these per-great desire for beauty, love, the joy of exquisite things, the warmth of a refined home, the satisfaction of worthwhile employment.

Present-day Application

This may seem almost within your reach, and still it eludes you. How can human needs be met? The answer is Christian Science. It reveals the fact that real happiness, satisfaction, usefulness, consist in living spiritually and not materially. The Master explained it. His method may be yours too; yes, right here and now, without any postponement. He was truly scientific by understanding that all correct reasoning should be out from the one cause. The average person accepts the veracity of the material senses. He attempts to build his religious or philosophical system upon these shifting and treacherous sands.

Acknowledging One's Divine Nature

Jesus built upon the rock, Christ—the recognition of his divine origin and status. He called no man on earth his father. He refused to be identified with the finite, temporal, imperfect. He identified himself with the infinite, eternal, perfect, by calling God his Father, and emphasizing that "I and my Father are one." Everything being basically mental, one can readily understand what an enormous difference this makes. By constantly identifying yourself with the limited and imperfect, you perpetuate these restrictions for yourself and thereby for that which appears as your world.

How Jesus Did It

Christ Jesus' method of identifying himself with the divine—"I am the way, the truth, and the life"—glorified his experience. He overcame that which he humanly seemed to be with his highest idea of perfect, eternal, infinite, complete existence. He called this heaven.

Had the Master accepted as his habitual thought of himself the picture painted of him by his family and friends—a loving person going around performing miracles—he never could have accomplished a single one of his works. That which appears as a person can never attain his highest aspiration of divine good, unless the personal sense yields to the divine, and unless this incontrovertible fact is unflinchingly maintained in the face of all argument to the contrary. "No man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven."

Error's Confrontation with Truth

It is as a result of this spiritual understanding that false suggestions about man as mortal, deficient, and destructible cannot maintain themselves. Error fades out in the presence of Christ, Truth. However, error must first be seen as error, before such confrontation becomes operative. As long as error is permitted to pose as truth, this confrontation does not take place, and error persists in its suggestion.

Here is the answer to the question why prayer for healing the sick has lost its efficacy among many adherents of Christian sects; why they frequent the physicians. The Nazarene practiced healing by prayer with hitherto unsurpassed skill. Mary Baker Eddy restored it in Christian Science.

The Christian Scientist affirms divine completeness by recognizing himself as the full expression of God. Disease is seen to be an utter lie, a baseless suggestion void of all reality. This lie is confronted with the truth of divine wholeness or the lie health.

Darkness cannot maintain itself in the blazing light of Truth. The lie, the disease, fades out.

Human sense may interpret it as a better, healthier condition of a material body. But the Christian Scientist, realizing man's spiritual nature, is not content to regard healing as merely physical. He avoids identifying himself with the mortal and material, and so becomes less subject to the suggestion of disease. Through this spiritually mental attitude, one prevents a recurrence after having been healed in Christian Science.

Christian Science Treatment Restorative

The Christian Science prayer or treatment is an acknowledgment of the divine facts of Being. It is restoration, not accretion. That is to say, do not assume that you are a person lacking in good health and praying for it as something to be added unto you. You have to know that divine wholeness, or health, is an idea already included in your true being.

Should the acknowledgment or affirmation of the truth not have instantaneous results, definite denials have to be made of the phases of evil. These denials should be both general and specific. The most sweeping and basic denial is: there is no mortal mind, since God, divine Mind, is All. This clarifies the atmosphere; now Truth can operate directly as the treatment.

The inevitable result of the treatment is a falling away of all sorts of human limitations. Hereby one recognizes the divine more readily and continually as one's own and only being. Far from losing anything worth while, it means a constant unfolding in satisfaction and completeness. Science and Health (p. 264) describes it as follows: "As mortals gain more correct views of God and man, multitudinous objects of creation, which before were invisible, will become visible. When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness."

Consequently man is understood in the way it is recorded in Genesis 1, as created "in the image of God." In modern language, this man is defined as (Science and Health, p. 475) "the compound idea of God, including all right ideas." Nothing is more needed than the acknowledgment of this satisfying sense of divine completeness.

Man's Dominion

"Dominion . . . over all the earth" was not extended, according to the divinely inspired Genesis 1, to a state of thought habitually thinking of itself as a person, with either a small or a large understanding of Truth. Dominion belongs to that state of thought knowing itself in terms of divine completeness—the image and likeness of God.

True liberty is the understanding and progressive experience of liberty, the history of mankind shows a progressive picture. There is a spiritual tide running through the affairs of men which cannot be subdued. Progressive unfolding is based upon a clearer perception of man's spiritual origin.

Mankind Progressive

Notwithstanding all wars and attempts to reverse the course of liberty, the history of mankind shows a progressive picture. There is a spiritual tide running through the affairs of men which cannot be subdued. Progressive unfolding is based upon a clearer perception of man's spiritual origin.

Wherever certain limitations were outgrown and human codes did not yield, revolution broke the enslaving clasp. The great American Revolution is a shining example. Its spiritually progressive nature is shown in the motives initiating it. In the Preamble of the Declaration of Independence, its justification was based upon the recognition of man's true or divine nature, which implies certain inalienable rights, such as "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." The spiritual understanding of man's divine nature releases divine power, which alone is able to obliterate outgrown concepts and conditions.

United States' World Prominence

The results of this revolution have been far-reaching. The United States of America was born—a symbol of certain inner convictions springing from the soil of Spirit, thereby irresistible and deathless. The leading part the United States is playing at present in world affairs is not accidental. It is due to the political revolution of 1776, and the even greater revolution of 1866 when Christian Science was discovered on the same coasts.

Christian Science Revolutionary

The culmination of liberty comes in Christian Science, in the recognition of man's entire freedom as "the full representation of Mind" (Science and Health, p. 591). This is truly revolutionary! Mrs. Eddy was already aware of this when the Christian Science movement was started.

At the National Convention of Christian Scientists, held in Chicago, in 1888, she made the following statement (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 99): "Science is absolute and final. It is revolutionary in its very nature; for it upsets all that is not upright. It annuls false evidence, and saith to the five material senses, 'Hav'ing eyes ye see not, and ears ye hear not; neither can you understand.'"

The revolution inaugurated by the Master's "I and my Father are one," has been rounded out and completed by Christian Science in the bold and entire rejection of all material sense. The mist of personal sense, hiding real existence, has been lifted. Man is now enabled to behold himself in fullness and immortality, in boundless bliss and fetterless freedom, in the Science of Divine Completeness.

Impartiality of Divine Law

The Christian Science revolution is set apart. It favors every step in line with the divine. It is impartial. It is never meant to benefit certain classes or certain nations at the expense of others. This revolution is from within. It operates by permitting the divine to assert itself as one's own being. The human is forced to yield. The power involved is divine law, not human will. If anyone should try to use this divine power for a human selfish purpose, it would slip from his grasp. The selfish motive would sever his identification with the divine.

The divine does not discriminate between mine and thine. By lifting the veil of divisibility and limitation covering the earth and constituting its human sense, the glory of infinity, individuality, oneness, fullness, appears. What humanly seems an ally or an enemy is equally blest. The bane of lack is lifted. Dissatisfaction dwindles away. Fear loses its frightfulness. Divine assurance waters the arid wastes of wavering and unrighteous judgment.

Dictators Usurp Principle

Wherever man's divine origin is not acknowledged, liberty is not understood and cannot prosper. The Christian Science textbook (p. 94) points out that "tyranny, intolerance, and bloodshed, wherever found, arise from the belief that the infinite is formed after the pattern of mortal personality, passion, and impulse." Consider man merely as a cog in the machine of material production, and you have slavery. No ideology, however cleverly and mesmerically advocated, can change that! In dictatorships, attempting to usurp the place of imperative Principle, there is no liberating revolution; there is enslaving reaction. Where these two clash is total war. Christian Science brings the antidote for total war with total revolution.

How to Meet Total War

Total war has come to this age. How to meet it is the question. And the answer is: in exactly the same attitude as the Christian Scientist has met successfully other forms of evil, such as disease. Disease, being discordant and destructive, has no place or recognition in the cause of creation. For that reason there is no disease, for it has no truth, no law, no mind, no reality. It cannot exist even as a false suggestion. Nowhere can it be accepted as a reality or a necessity. This divine knowledge, or Christian Science, operates as the law of instant, full, permanent obliteration to false suggestions, under whatever disguise they may attempt to parade. Whether a suggestion claims to be little by calling itself a disease of a person, or big by pretending to be a war between nations, its basis being nowhere, such pretensions show no power to frighten or mesmerize. And, as pretensions should be emphatically and understandingly denied, and thus annulled.

True Safety Explained

Thousands upon thousands of soldiers are nowadays in danger of death, according to human standards. It is the outcome of the generally accepted theory that the universe is material and man destructible. It is scientifically correct to say, and it has been proved, that by not admitting the material picture of existence, and simultaneously recognizing man's all-inclusive divine completeness, protection from danger of bombing has been realized in many instances.

True safety is not to be found in digging into the earth. If you really wish to help your loved ones serving in the armed forces, you should not continue thinking about them merely as good, as brave human boys. It is not sufficient to try to surround them as human persons with good thoughts. As long as you think in terms of persons, there persists the danger of destruction. Listen to Mrs. Eddy's counsel, of many years' standing, but more compelling now than ever (Miscellaneous Writings, pp. 308, 309): "I earnestly advise all Christian Scientists to remove from their observation or study the personal sense of any one, and not to dwell in thought upon their own or others' corporeality, either as good or evil."

How to Think of Soldier Son

Parents, think of your boy as the son of God, as the divine manifestation, forever existing, full, free, dwelling securely within "the city [consciousness] of the living God." Man's true selfhood abides in this city—unassailable, never invaded, never bombed. Explosions are only possible in a world of three dimensions, in a realm of limitation.

Whatever you love of your human son, whatever you admire as his goodness, bravery, joy, indicates divine ideas, spiritual qualities, though misinterpreted, and objectified in a mortal person. Really, these ideas exist forever in divine completeness—your true status. Your knowledge of this, being divine and not human, reveals the operation of God's law protecting and succoring whatever humanly seems normal, right, and essential concerning you and your boy. Here is "the peace of God, which passeth all [human] understanding."

Peace Movement's Failure

The international peace movement has signally failed. Not because of lack of good will and Christian endeavor. It has failed because it was fighting war as a formidable reality. Of course, such an attitude is unavoidable until Christian Science reveals the unreality of all evil. This is the point which seems to be most reluctantly admitted—the fact of the unreality of evil. All merely human efforts fail for lack of divinely scientific insight. They are made in the wrong direction. Every human attempt to accomplish good, however noble and praiseworthy, is vitiated by the misconception that one is dealing with an outward material reality. Christian Science shows the paramount necessity of reducing evil things and conditions to false suggestions. Thus they come within the scope of the Christian Science treatment. Evil claims to be material, personal, actual, in order to evade the operation of the treatment which, avowedly, is spiritually mental.

Salvation

The Christian Science movement is the only true peace movement. Its efficacy depends upon the willingness and understanding of its members to live their highest selfhood. Herein one finds salvation for one-self and for that which appears as one's world. The Christian Science textbook defines "salvation" thus (p. 593): "Life, Truth, and Love understood and demonstrated as supreme over all; sin, sickness, and death destroyed."

Frederic Rohde Jap Prisoner

Included in the list released last week by the War Department of the prisoners of war held by the Japanese in the Philippines was the name of Frederic F. Rohde, formerly of 25 Canterbury rd., Newton Highlands.

Frederic graduated from Newton High School in 1936 and was a member of the Cavalry Club while in school.

He enlisted in the United States Army Air Corps in October, 1940, and was sent to the Philippine Islands in January, 1941, where he was stationed at Nichols Field, Manila.

In August, 1942, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rohde, were notified that he was missing in action, which was the first word they had had as to his whereabouts since a letter from him which was mailed from the Islands in November, 1941.

The first tangible evidence that he was alive was the report appearing in the newspapers of last week, that he was being held by the Japanese as a prisoner, along with others.

Frederic's brother, Philip G. Rohde, enlisted in the Army Air Corps at the same time, and was sent to Clark Field, Pampanga Province, in the Philippines.

No word has been received from Philip since a letter from him in November, 1941. He, too, was reported missing in action in August, 1942.

The boys' sister, Barbara Ann Rohde, recently induced in the W.A.A.C.s, is now stationed at Daytona Beach, Florida.

REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION

John W. "Jackie" Newman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Newman of 1026 Boylston st., Newton Highlands, has been reported as missing in action by the Navy Department. Before enlisting in the navy he had been employed at the Automatic Machine Products Co. in Attleboro, Mass.

Milkmen Give Both Blood and Money

Fifty-five milkmen from the Boston Retail Branch of H. P. Hood & Sons visited the Blood Donor's Centre Wednesday, March 17 en masse. Each donated a pint of blood.

Many of these men had visited the Donor Centre two or three times before. D. Buccelli and O. J. Miller were donating for their 5th time. The veteran was Clifford Skerry, for whom this was his 6th trip. Also in the group was T. A. Leonard, Sales Superintendent of this branch.

In addition to their blood gifts, these milkmen are donating $100 from the treasury of their social club — appropriately named the Friendship Club.

The group was led by George Barnes, Walter Gaddis, and Hugh Trainor, supervisors of milk sales. Although the Government has restricted the sale of pints of milk, there is no restriction on a milkman's giving a pint of blood.

Usually milkmen leave a few quarts of milk, but here they left 55 pints of blood for which the service men and the Red Cross are duly thankful.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Mr. Daniel Bloomfield, Manager of the Retail Trade Board, spoke at the Monday morning assembly. Students of the Merchandising Department entertained him for lunch following which a class discussion was held.

The Retail Training students visited the Sears Roebuck Store in Brookline on Tuesday afternoon. College closed Friday for the Spring holidays and classes will be resumed on April 6.

Take Care of Rubber

Milking machine parts made of rubber should receive the best of care. Keep the rubber parts clean, and do not bend, hammer, or pull the rubber. Keep them out of the sunlight and do not sterilize with steam or boiling water.

Free Clinics For Immunization Now Being Conducted

Free clinics for the immunization of children against diphtheria began in the Newton schools on Monday, March 15, under the direction of the Health Department.

The treatment will be given to pre-school, kindergarten, and first grade children whose parents cannot afford to have it done by a private physician. The children will be given the second dose on the week of April 5, the third on the week of April 26, and a "clean-up" series will be held during the week of May 17 for those who should happen to miss one of the three required doses.

Parents may make appointments by calling the Health Department. Arrangements may also be made with the school nurse.

During the final week of the diphtheria immunization, May 17-20, children will also be vaccinated against smallpox. Dr. Ernest M. Morris, director of public health, stressed the importance of vaccination of children who have not been vaccinated or whose vaccination did not "take," pointing out that small pox epidemics have recently occurred in some communities in Pennsylvania.

NEWCOMERS CLUB

The Newcomers Club held a regular monthly bridge meeting on March 19th at the Newton Centre Women's Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. Robert E. Kennigott, Social Chairman, and her committee: Mrs. Jos. P. Maloney, Mrs. Clem Timmerberg, Mrs. J. Gilbert Aldinger, Mrs. Geo. Bierderman, Mrs. Karl Van Galloway, Mrs. Edward Currier and Mrs. Leon H. Perry.

After a short business meeting presided over by the President Mrs. Walter W. Strohhenn, who introduced the latest arrivals to Newton, bridge was played. United States War Savings Stamps were given as prizes.

Will Provides Fund Benefits

The will of Arthur S. Pitman of Newton filed in the Middlesex Probate Court on March 10 provides that trust funds of $10,000 each be set up for Miss Emma Menge of 9 Mt. Ida st., Newton, Miss Mildred Frost of 107 Pleasant st., Newton Centre and Miss Mildred Brookings of Framingham.

They are to receive the income from the funds for the rest of their lives and the remainder as well as the balance of the estate is to be divided equally between the Salvation Army of Boston and the Merrimack Mission of Boston.

Mr. Pitman had roomed at the home of Miss Menge for 35 years and had often expressed his appreciation of things she had done to make him comfortable when he had not been in the best of health.

Miss Frost, who is assistant librarian at the Newton Library had often assisted Mr. Pitman in selecting books on music and photography in which he had been interested.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS SEED FROM WHICH A HOME MAY GROW

A wave of popular interest in the idea of planning war savings for future home ownership and home improvement is rising throughout the Northeastern states. Northeastern Homes Foundation reports, on the basis of inquiries being received by retail lumber dealers and by institutions that specialize in home financing. The $25 bond you now buy each month may represent the monthly cost of owning your own home after the war. Every stamp added to that monthly bond purchase may be a seed from which a new home, or a better home for family health, comfort, and enjoyment will grow.

A whole lot of little things go into the building of a home. Any one of them—each of the pieces of lumber, a door knob, a light fixture—can be visualized in terms of a few War Savings Stamps. In such ways you can make a dream of a home of your own begin to come true—right now!

Mr. Cady Peck of Peck Lumber Company will be glad to help make plans for future home ownership.

At their next business meeting an appropriate name for the club will be chosen. The girls in this group are making aprons, pajamas, skirts and dresses.

A Red Cross Home Nursing Class for girls in the eighth grade at the St. Bernard's Parochial School has been organized at the West Newton Community Centre, Inc., with 18 girls enrolled. Mrs. Lytton H. Dowson is the instructor.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." These words from I Corinthians 2:9 comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, Mar. 28, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be: "Reality." Included among the Scriptural citations will be: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and my cup; thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage" (Psalms 16:5, 6).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Erroneous belief is destroyed by truth. Change the evidence, and that disappears which before seemed real to this false belief, and the human consciousness rises higher. Thus the reality of being is attained and man found to be immortal" (p. 297).

DUGOUT SPLINTERS

Newton High's showy basketball team might not have won the Tech tourney last week but the thousands of spectators who watched the Orange and Black win their first play-off game against New Bedford can possibly never forget the manner in which a stubborn Warren Huston five came from behind with 15 seconds remaining in the regulation game time and came from behind with one minute remaining in the 3-minute overtime, to finally win the hoop tussle in just four seconds of the "sudden death" session.

True the Newton cagers were hot and cold in both nights they were represented on the Medford court Friday evening, in the semi-finals against Brockton, the Hustons were just outclassed and outplayed. It might have been the torrid effects of their previous day's game, but whatever it was, the Brockton team just dribbled away for an easy victory. Just to prove that Newton wasn't the only club that met an upset, Somerville, the team conceded to win the cup, was beaten by Attleboro. Attleboro finally won the tournament by defeating Brockton last Saturday night in the finals.

Newton, although the loser, gave the Tech tourney organizers something to put down on record, as the Orange hoopers played NB in the best game Director Henry McCarthy and his committee have ever witnessed in the history of the tournament.

The game that made Newton great was the overtime and "sudden death" nerve-racking fight that saw the Orange and Black basketballmen chalk up the most outstanding and never surpassed victory in Newton high school history.

Newton started out like champions with two fast baskets. New Bedford, the came back and when the first period ended the score read 6-6. From then on, Newton was on the see-sawing end. They were trailing at half-time 15-11. In the third period, it was 22-17 for Newton. With 1 minute and 50 seconds remaining in the game, the score 26-24 for NB, right guard Jerry Peck swished a long one for the tie count but with 30 seconds to go, Bob Haldstrom of NB sank two fouls and it was a sure bet that the South Shore team had the game clinched.

The Hustons were not to be tied down and with just 15 scant seconds for the final whistle, Peck flipped in a onehander to even it up again. The crowd was in an uproar. The game ended three seconds later 28-28. The three minute overtime saw the scoring go as follows: Doug Teschner making it 30-28 on a hop shot, NB tying it again. Two minutes to go and the opposition's tall center put his team ahead 32-30. With but one minute remaining Bill Sharpe sank a one-hander to put Newton back into the ball game 32-32. The overtime ended with that score. Came the "sudden death" and everyone was standing. The tap-off by center Sharpe went to Teschner, who immediately passed to Capt. Hacker Martin. The captain dribbled past the NB guard, shot, and the game was over. In four seconds the ball game was Newton's, in the best basketball match of the tourney, best in Tech tournament history, best in Newton sports annals.

But with showers of praise and buckets of flowers come also despair. And that's the story as Brockton took a 9-0 lead at the outset of their Friday night game and easily rode away to a 52-36 win. That was the final of Newton's two night basketball bid for the schoolboy championship.

Tennis Defeat

In the first round of the women's national indoor tennis singles championship last Monday at the Longwood Covered courts, Virginia Boyer of Newton lost to Mrs. Sanborn Vincent, 9-7 and 6-1.

Basketball Star

That was one title given to Gerry Peck, Orange and Black hoop guard this year. For his outstanding defense work and exceptionally fine offense play, Gerry was chosen on the All Tech basketball team.

Spring Is Here

And high school candidates for the springtime favorite, baseball, have finally reported to the Newton High gym for practice. Roster eye-fuls find Wes Hayes, hockey goalie out for pitcher; Harold Martin, hoop captain, for catcher, and Johnny Recco, football lineman, for the first sack position.

Newton A Sport Town

And why not? With Boston College, one of the leading football and hockey teams, Newton High's top-notch track and baseball squads, Raytheon's outstanding defense plant sport team, Newton City league's baseball clubs which rank with the best N. E. circuit nines and the Y.M.C.A.'s last year's swimming team, former Y. track champions and bowling leaders—the city of Newton rates as the best sport city in these parts.

"This model gets 50 miles per gallon!"

Have you heard about the wonder of the highways that engineers are planning? It's a two-mile-a-minute speedster with fenders that won't dent. Push a button— presto! You have air conditioning. Tires will be made of petroleum, which will stand abuse you couldn't expect of rubber. And for "A" card holders today, here's good news. Engineers say it will get 50 miles on a gallon of gasoline!

You may not be able to buy new cars like these today, but you can start saving for them now by putting every dollar you can spare into War Bonds or your saving's account.

Remember, the more you save, the sooner the war will be won. Are you doing your share?

TIME BOMBS

Unemployment Ended

Improvement is one thing we always need more of. Remaking the world—starting with ourselves—is a job which offers steady work for everybody.

The modern attempt to substitute intelligence for morals has proved to be singularly unimpressive.

Cliff Howe says, "You can't spell 'Victory' with an absent T."

When father lays down the law, and mother makes the amendments, that doesn't make the household a democracy.

There's no such thing as an idle rumor. They all work overtime.

Is yours a fighting family, or just a family fighting?

Dreams aren't likely to come true for those who oversleep.

Democracy means more than going out to make our vote count on election day. It means going out to help our elected candidate make good.

Is Appointed As Army Cadet

Robert R. Andrews, 2nd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio LeSeur Andrews of 242 Waban Ave., Waban, has been appointed an Army Aviation Cadet. Andrews, who has been home on a visit to his parents, was at Hickman Field on Dec. 7, 1941, when the Japs made their sneak attack. He received verbal commendation for taxiing a bomber which had caught fire in the middle of the field, for a distance of half a mile, thus saving many lives and a squadron of planes. When the flames could not be checked on the bomber which carried four 300-lb. bombs, and the rest of the crew had run for cover, Andrews went into the ship and starting all four motors, taxied it at full speed until it was far enough from the field, escaping in time himself to avoid being blown up with the plane.

For his efficient work as an aerial engineer in Hawaii, where he held the rank of sergeant, he was appointed an aviation cadet. He also served at Midway Island where he was in the air more than 300 hours on reconnaissance and patrol missions.

His brother, Corporal Richard Andrews, is with the Army in Egypt. He has a sister, Mrs. E. E. Babb, Jr., of Wellesley.

This WEEK, This WORLD

by Ted Friend

THE SCENE IS the editorial sanctum of any reactionary newspaper in the United States.

It is about 10 A. M., and the teletype machine is pounding out a flash notifying editors that a Washington news story relating to Chairman Frederic Adair's report of the National Planning Board Report would be placed on the wires in time for late editions of afternoon papers.

Approximately two hours later the teletype machine goes to work again, to the extent of two typewritten pages, and drones out a story concerning the 400,000 word Delano report.

A minute or two after the teletype machine quits its recital head ne writers scrawl huge scare-words, in screeching 72 point type, denouncing the report!

There may be a great many things wrong with the Delano report, but more things right with it than wrong, but it would have been physically impossible for any one but a presumptuous or subsidized newspaper writer to read and analyze the report, much less answer, the 400,000 word Delano document, in the between-the-edition time accorded it.

It is noteworthy that while the die-hard barons of the press denounce the Delano report before they had the opportunity to read it, the Republican Party leadership, as well as the Democratic Party leadership, held its fire. Liberal Republican leaders, particularly, such as Wilkie, Stassen, and Saltonstall refrained from commenting on the report.

Any wonder that the prestige of a great part of the press has gone into eclipse in recent years? The pathetic effort to knock down the Delano report even before it was with its halting distance is a demonstration of the sterility, bias and even moral corruption which has increasingly taken hold of a great many wealthy newspaper enterprises the past decade.

QUOTE-OF-THE-MONTH Club: "Every war for the subjection or domination of an alien people by one of our own peoples is a defeat." Adolf Hitler (May 21, 1935).

A TRIBUTE to American patriotism, of all sects and races, is the fact that of over 5,000,000 men called to the colors, only 6,277 or less than one-tenth of one per cent, have been conscientious objectors and of these 40 per cent were Menonites.

MEMO to WESTBROOK PEGLER: ... Labor's No-Strike pledge has been kept 99.97 per cent!

THE BRASS MEDAL... As low and as unspontaneous as the smearing of President Roosevelt's sons, now in the fighting forces, by Rep. Lambertson (Kansas) is the attempted character assassination of OPA General Counsel David Ginsburg, whom flannel-mouthed Rep. John W. Flannagan (W. Va.) attacked without logic or evidence at a vicious anti-Semitic session of the anti-Liberal forces.

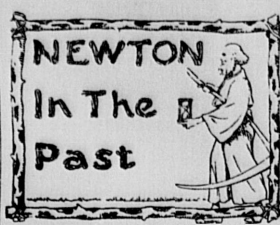

BEG IT, or borrow it, or buy it—BUT READ IT! "Dress Rehearsal" by Quentin Reynolds (Random House), a stirring eyewitness account of the raid at Dieppe, the first air, land and sea performance in the European theatre of war.

THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO COME... Plans will soon be announced which will lead to the establishing of a cargo plane-glider transport service between Latin America and the United States... John G. Winant is in line for an important appointment.

Both of these regulations were recently adopted by the Board of Aldermen as amendments to the traffic regulations, but before becoming effective had to be approved by the State Department of Public Works.

POLITICS WITH COLOR

By P. W. C.

Senator Burton of Ohio

Blasting Congress and all its works has been a favorite indoor sport for the past year or two. I plead guilty to participating in this sport myself. However, the current Congress has been showing considerable signs of life and independence. More power to it.

Turn, now, to the bright side of the picture and consider the career of a United States Senator whom many of us in Newton knew in the happy, happy days of long ago. I refer to Senator Harold H. Burton of Ohio, who married Miss Selma Smith of West Newton, daughter of the late Arthur R. Smith. Young Burton graduated from Bowdoin College and the Harvard Law School and went West. He built up a splendid law practice in Cleveland, where he became vitally interested in good government and was drafted to run for Mayor. A reform movement was endeavoring to put an undesirable political machine out of business and Burton looked as tho' he could turn the trick. He could and he did. He was re-elected Mayor and gave an excellent administration, despite some little unpleasantness with the Governor of that state in connection with the city's finances. At that point he set sail for the United States Senate and reached port safely.

What is this relatively young man doing today? He is a member of Senator Truman's vitally important committee which studies war contracts and expenses from week to week and does everything possible to insure economical and honest conduct of the war. Furthermore, and more important than that, Senator Burton is one of the four leading authors of the current resolution in the Senate which aims at setting up a postwar international police force. The other sponsors of this resolution are Senators Hatch of New Mexico, author of the famous Hatch Act, Hill of Alabama, and Ball of Minnesota, who officially presented the resolution. Hatch and Hill are Democrats and Ball and Burton are Republicans. Incidentally, if you want to see a very fair likeness of Senator Burton, look at Time magazine, March 8 issue, which shows the Truman Committee in action.

My purpose in writing this paragraph is to remind my readers that it is still possible in this great country of ours to start from scratch, with no advantages except character, ambition, courage and native ability and rise to the top, despite bitter competition. Our young men would do well to study the fine career of Senator Harold H. Burton and then set out to duplicate it. We who have known him for years are very proud of him today.

Private First Class Charles E. Smith, formerly of Newton, Mass., has received orders that will send him on to the Finance Officer Candidate School at Duke University, Durham, N. C. Prior to his induction in June, 1942, Smith was a lawyer and claim investigator and since joining, he has been stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J. Recruiting and Induction Station. He is the son of Charles W. Smith, 29 Belmont st., Newton. His wife is now living at 23 Richardson st.

Sgt. Howard Vallance Jones, Jr., from Camp Breckinridge, Kentucky, has returned to camp after spending a nine day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard V. Jones of 185 Oliver rd., Waban.

Six young men from Newton, Mass., and vicinity have been selected to the Army Air Forces Pre-Flight School for Pilots at Maxwell Field, Alabama, from the Nashville Army Air Center (AAFCC) Nashville, Tenn., to begin the second phase of their training as pilots in the U. S. Army Air Forces' expanding program.

These men are Santo F. Caruso, 318 River st., West Newton; Alfred L. Low, Jr., 264 Lake ave., Newton Highlands; Richard J. Spettell, 151 Woodcliff rd., Newton Highlands; Raymond M. Thatcher, 23 Otis place, Newtonville; Charles E. Walker, Jr., 10 Omar terrace, Newtonville, and Emerson A. Young, 58 Central st., Auburndale.

Aviation Cadet John H. Bechtel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bechtel, 35 Bradford rd., Newton Highlands, is now at Pecos Army Air Field, Pecos, Texas completing his basic flying training with the AAF. Cadet Bechtel who is training for combat duty, was formerly a Northeastern University student.

Theodore J. Parker, husband of Mrs. Theodore J. Parker, 304 Adams st., Newton, Mass., has begun an intensive course of study in aviation mechanics at Amarillo Army Air Field, Texas, one of the newest schools in the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command.

2nd Lt. Warren P. Springer of Newton Upper Falls, has been assigned to the Staff & Faculty, at the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla. Lieutenant Springer, attended Northeastern University. He was a member of the Elks, and the Newton Police Memorial Association.

Second Lieut. Paul R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brown of 215 Mill st., Newtonville, began a course this week in aerial navigation at the Army Air Forces Navigation School at San Marcos, Texas.

Henry V. Greene, Jr., son of H. V. Greene of 1790 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale, was recently appointed a Naval Aviation Cadet and was transferred to the Naval Air Training Center, Pensacola, Fla., for intermediate flight training.

Upon completion of the intensive course at the "Annapolis of the Air" Greene will receive his Navy "Wings of Gold" with the designation of Naval Aviator, and will be commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve or a Second Lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve.

issue. There is much to be said on both sides. Personally, my instinct is definitely against the idea. However, there are always exceptions to every rule. Maybe the current racketeer probe is one of these exceptions. The Governor has been obliged to make a most delicate and difficult decision. In sympathizing with him, let us hope that he made the correct decision.

The Hatch Act

Most people seem to approve the famous Hatch Act, which was designed to prevent Federal officeholders from seeking elective office, even in the tiniest communities. I am now wondering, however, if the act may be a bit too strict and rigid. Here we have Seth Gano of Belmont making headlines because he was running for a relatively unimportant and, incidentally, unpaid job in his home town, at the same time that he was on the local rationing board. I know Gano and I doubt if he had any idea that he was doing anything wrong. A similar situation has stirred up some Brookline people, tho' I am frank to state that there appears to be a slight political tinge to this one. It is barely possible that the act requires a slight amendment. It would be well to watch this whole situation from now on.

Men In Service

Tech Corporal Randolph James Blood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Blood, 2 Nonantum st., Newton, has been enrolled in a special course of instruction at the Signal Corps' School at Camp Murphy, Fla. Col. Blood was selected for this specialized training on the basis of his aptitude.

Arthur William Delaney of 9 Grant st., West Newton, reports, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States Mar. 15 upon successful completion of the Officer Candidate Course at The Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga. Lt. Delaney lives with Mr. and Mrs. C. Thompson of 9 Grant st., West Newton, Mass. The new lieutenant was inducted into the army on March 8, 1941, and served with the 26th Division, before going to Officer Candidate School three months ago. He held the rank of Corp. before being commissioned. He attended Western High in West Newton, Mass., and Chandler Business School at Boston, Mass.

Washington—The "new secret Nazi weapon" has finally made its appearance. It's called the "sneak raid" and here is how it works: A few but fast German fighter-bombers approach the English coast at sea level, remain over British coastal villages for only three or four minutes, drop 50-pound bombs on schools or stores and sneak back to their bases.

These raids are difficult to combat as planes approaching from occupied France, only a few miles distant, can reach the English coast in five minutes or less. British coastal gunners have literally only a few seconds' warning and before they can aim and fire their guns the sneak raiders have circled and are on their way back. In spite of these lightning fast attacks nearly half of the raiders in the past month were chased back before reaching their objective. It must be chalked up to these Nazis' credit that they do liberally represent innocent civilian targets rather than military objectives—the latter are too well protected.

MEDICINE AND CHRISTIANITY IN OCCUPIED HOLLAND: The reasons that doctors believe members of the Nazi Physicians' Chamber in conflict with Christianity were told by the Dutch underground press. Papers reaching Allied territory said that doctors find it impossible to join the Physicians' Chamber because it is founded upon Nazi doctrine, which interferes with the relationship between physician and patient, a relationship which Christian and professional ethics demand be maintained.

The Nazi policy demanding that doctors diminish the chances of life of the mentally afflicted or even kill them is considered a complete denial of the deeper meaning of the Gospel. As to sterilization, the physicians' explanation of their attitude was: "The demands of Nazism that Dutch doctors collaborate in measures to secure racial purity—for example, by sterilizing fellow citizens against their will—must be refused by Netherlands physicians on human, on scientific and religious grounds, because the demand originates in a creed which in its deification of race, blood and soil, must appear to doctors as the purest paganism."

The underground press concluded with the statement that the continuing refusal of Netherlands physicians to requests for collaboration with the Nazi is: "We say no and we continue to say no all along the line."

From the Polish Underground: lots at Maxwell Field, Alabama, from the Nashville Army Air Center (AAFCC) Nashville, Tennessee, to begin the second phase of their training as pilots in the U. S. Army Air Forces' expanding program. They are Cadets Francis L. Buswell, Jr., 321 Kenrick st., Newton; Harold G. DeWolfe, Jr., 246 California st., Newton; Richard R. Forbes, 133 Eliot ave., West Newton; John H. Ingalls, Jr., 78 Central st., Auburndale, and B. Sander, 72 Cabot st., Newton.

Lieutenant William A. Haskell, 23, son of Mrs. Margaret B. Haskell, 530 Ward st., Newton Centre, has been promoted from second to first lieutenant at Army Air Forces Basic Flying School, Persimmon Field, Texas, where he is a flight instructor. Lieutenant Haskell received his wings and a commission in the Army Air Forces after completing his flight training at Kelly Field in February of last year.

Aviation Cadet Felix M. Rogers son of Mrs. Margaret Louise Rogers of 398 Waltham st., Newton, Mass., has just completed his basic training at the Merced Army Flying School, Merced, California, with Class 43E.

He will go to Yuma, Ariz., for his advanced instruction. At the completion of his course there he will receive his "Wings," and will join Uncle Sam's Legions in the skies.

Cadet James J. Martin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Martin, 30 Capital st., Newton, has entered the Classification Center at Nashville Army Air Center (A. A. F. C. C.).

Cadet Martin is a graduate of Newton High School where he was a member of the Boys Athletic Committee, Legislature, and National Honor Society. Prior to entering the Army, Cadet Martin was employed by the Hood Rubber Co. His brother, John L. Martin, is a 2nd Lieutenant in the Army.

P. F. C. Robert H. Bleiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bleiler of Newton Centre, has graduated from Weather School at Chanute Field, Mo. He expects to go on to another Meteorological School at some college. P. F. C. Bleiler graduated from Newton High and attended Boston University where he was a member of Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity.

Warren M. Hilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Hilton of 30 Canterbury rd., Newton Highlands, graduated as a second lieutenant on March 6 from O. C. S. at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Lieutenant Hilton, who has been home on a furlough, had previously been stationed at Pittsburgh, Pennsylv-

The German Army in Russia has suffered from cold, hunger, filth, vermin, and poor organization. The food supply is terrible. Some detachments receive too much food, others suffer hunger for weeks. The cold causes great hardship and tremendous suffering. Many soldiers have frozen hands and feet. The wounded often freeze to death in the field or while being transported from the battle line.

The German soldier vents his anger upon the civilian population. The retreating German armies set ablaze everything in their path, leaving a trail of fire and destruction.

Although the German soldier on the Eastern front still wants a German offensive and victory, he no longer wants to do the fighting. The only thing that keeps him at the front today is fear of slavery and fear of the revenge of the conquered nations.

WALTER PIERCE REPORTS: An order from the White House has brought about a revaluation of the franc in North Africa from 75 to the dollar to 50 to the dollar—thereby helping Frenchmen to obtain dollars at a discount of more than one-third of former Vichy exchange rates. Another White House ultimatum was served on top Government officials lately demanding an end to all squabbling. The order will be carried out—or else... The promise made to Madame Chiang Kai-Shek of a substantial increase of American planes and other war material from this country will be fulfilled as soon as the British clear Burma of Japs... New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey's first bid for the support of certain Southern Democrats in 1944 was his approval last week of extradition proceedings against two Negroes accused of a shooting in Mississippi. Dewey, however, tried to soothe Republican feelings by requesting the Mississippi authorities to protect the prisoners and see to it that they received a fair trial... Some people have worried that Russia might overrun Europe; other have worried that she might stop at her own borders. Senator Wheeler, however, is worried about either and both possibilities. Talking to a reporter he said there was a possibility that Stalin might drive on to Berlin. The Senator did not seem to approve of that. Then he went on to say that perhaps Russia would stop fighting when she reached her own borders. The Senator seemed not to find that to his liking either. It seems that whether Russia goes ahead or stops, Senator Wheeler is going to object.

Among the women recently sworn into the WAVES was Miss Ruth W. Edwards, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Edwards of 20 Asheville rd., Newton. Miss Edwards is a graduate of Newton High School in the class of '40, and she also attended Kaden School of Secretarial Science of Brookline. Miss Edwards was sworn in as an apprentice seaman. At present she is on inactive duty and is awaiting orders to report for her indoctrination at one of the many Wave Training Schools. Women who are interested in enlisting in the WAVES should apply to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station or visit the Boston Navy Recruiting Station in the Federal Building.

Among the women from Newton recently sworn into the WAVES was the women's Reserve of the United States Naval Reserve, as apprentice seamen and now on inactive duty pending further orders was Miss Mildred A. Feist, 26, of 1377 Walnut st., Newton Highlands. A voice teacher, Miss Feist is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Among the women from Newton recently sworn into the WAVES, the Women's Reserve of the United States Naval Reserve, as apprentice seamen and now on inactive duty pending further orders was Miss Agnes J. Fisk, 23-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Fisk of 91 Newtonville ave., Newton.

26 Killed Or Missing in Action

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Agency at Newton City Hall has reported that of the approximately 5000 Newton men in the armed services, 14 have been reported killed in action, 12 missing and many others as wounded.

However, they state these figures are unofficial and undoubtedly incomplete as the sources from which they were taken were from scattered Army and Navy lists and radio broadcasts. No complete casualty lists are published for single localities by either the Army or the Navy, and for military reasons names are often withheld.

Salvation does not take place from the basis of persons or mortal beings. In fact, as long as one thinks in terms of persons to be saved, one is excluding oneself from the presence of Life, Truth, and Love. The belief of mortals or persons is divisibility, antagonizing the oneness, infinity, and indivisible divine completeness which man reflects.

The Blue Glass

The use of human comparisons for explaining spiritual facts is always more or less futile. In this connection, however, it may be helpful to draw your attention to the following illustration. Looking through a blue glass, everything and everybody appears blue. To get rid of the blue, one has to remove the blue glass. "Delusion, sin, disease, and death arise," according to the textbook (p. 301), "from the false testimony of material sense, which, from a supposed standpoint outside the focal distance of infinite Spirit, presents an inverted image of Mind and substance with everything turned upside down." Here is the illuminating explanation of Mrs. Eddy, showing that the difficulty is in a wrong approach.

Instead of conceiving existence through the finite and fallible human senses, one must behold it in terms of Truth. Then existence is discerned as it really, divinely, is, not externally, but inclusively. Thus one finds that man, as divine manifestation, is universal. When this is seen, all will appear increasingly well, because all is well.

It is never a question of how many persons are knowing the truth; although your knowing of the truth—and thereby living it—humanly may appear as more people seeking the truth. It is always the question how well, how consistently, how fully, how infinitely, how lovingly, you are knowing the truth as Truth's manifestation.

Truth's Realization Dynamic

In the sacred clarity of your spiritual being, in that crystal sense that all existence is Truth manifesting itself in all its majesty and glory, things really happen. That is to say, in this mighty inner understanding, all is well, and even the argument that something is wrong has not any more to be silenced—because it simply does not exist. God's law operates in all-encompassing directness and unflinching efficiency. This is Love's reign and realm.

Love's All-Encompassing Oneness
Your understanding of Love, revealing that you are its manifesttation, is the most precious prize. Love, as nothing else can, shows the indivisible oneness of Being. Here is no fear, no friction, no strife, no destruction. Only Love makes it possible to encompass existence as one glorious whole.

He who declared, "Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," truly understood the oneness of existence, because he truly loved.

When asked which was the great commandment in the law, Jesus said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, . . . And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Scientific Lawfulness

In order to be a scientific exponent of the Master, it is not any more enough to think of oneself and of others in terms of loving persons trying to obey God. Thanks to Mary Baker Eddy, we have a higher concept of these commandments on which "hang all the law and the prophets." These commandments mean that you shall definitely realize that your heart, your soul, your mind, is actually God, divine, infinite Love; therefore you are Love's full expression. And whatever appears as the goodness of your neighbor is a divine idea included in your real selfhood—the manifestation of God's infinite completeness.

This is far from belittling anything which is humanly observed to be good and loving. Turning from the human, its longings and frustrations, to the spiritual acknowledgment of the divine as one's conscious being, you experience much more of what in human terms may be called goodness, love, satisfaction. However, the divine is really something far more stable, practical, enduring—the steadily increasing experience of God, of divine Love expressed.

Lecture's Infinite Scope

Our experience here is exemplifying this very Love in manifestation. Let us view it as it really is, from the standpoint of Truth itself. In so doing, the active and releasing power of the message will be felt far beyond the short span of a mortal hour, far beyond the limited scope of an audience. By realizing that the divine ideas expressed here are the fuller experience of our own being, liberated from the evil suggestions exposed as unreal, we, in the sacred assurance of divine completeness, are fulfilling our life-purpose, and are thereby the blessing bountiful for all mankind.

NEWTONVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, announces a Suspension Bridge (so called because of the curtailment of all club activities during the fuel crisis) on Tuesday, March 30, proceeds of which will go toward the general running expenses of the club.

Several members have volunteered to open their homes for the occasion and each hostess will be assisted in entertaining by a co-hostess.

Parties will be held at the following homes: Mrs. Richard H. Wright, 96 Dexter rd.; Mrs. Arthur Quimby, 79 Washington pk.; Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, 82 Lowell ave.; Mrs. John T. Webster, 44 Thaxter rd.; Mrs. Thomas G. Walters, 242 Otis st.; Mrs. Carl B. Horton, 35 Westfield rd., West Newton.

Assisting these hostesses will be Mrs. Robert E. Lindquist, Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth, Mrs. John C. Duff, Mrs. Charles W. Peterson, Mrs. Frank M. Simmons and Mrs. Charles R. Thompson.

Dessert will be served at 1:30 and there will be attractive prizes for each table.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Howard C. Thomas or any of the above hostesses.

Best Attendance Of Season

Despite the severity of the weather the largest audience of the season was thrilled and delighted at the excellence of the entertainment offered at the March meeting Tuesday, the 16th, in the Congregational Parish House.

The principal speaker was the well known radio commentator, Irving T. McDonald, who chose as his subject, "Two Days that Settled the War." The first of these days was June 21, 1940, when Hitler received the submission of the French Army, and according to the speaker he could have demanded the French African bases and the French fleet. These with the assistance of the Italian fleet and his own German fleet, would have enabled him to drive the British from the Mediterranean. The other day was December 7, 1941, when Japan in the opinion of the lecturer, lost the war, when by their prearranged plan, they thought they had won.

Frank Lam, had been billed as providing an hour of laughs and enjoyment. The members readily concurred in this, at the close of his act. The gales of whole hearted laughter and the exclamations of astonishment attested to his standing as a leading exponent in the providing of songs, stories, mystery novelties and piano playing.

President Sidney H. Baylor announced the March meeting of the Executive Committee to be held Thursday, the 25th, at 8 p. m. at the home of Wallace G. Strathern, 362 Waban ave.

The final Dinner Meeting of the season will be on Tuesday, April 13, at 6:30 p. m. at the Parish House, Congregational Church.

Special Project On April 19th

The Women's Division of our Newton War Savings Committee is sponsoring a special project in observance of "Minute Men Day in Massachusetts," to be observed on April 19th. Beginning on March 27th the Women's Division plans to sell $60,000 of War Savings Bonds at its various booths, the campaign ending on April 19th.

These War Savings Bonds will purchase a Navy Aircraft Rescue Boat, which, when commissioned, will be designated as sponsored by the citizens of Newton.

We earnestly hope that this special campaign will have the wholehearted support of the people of Newton.

QUIZ ANSWERS

Grade Yourself

1. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points. We are fighting this war because the freedom that America symbolizes would be lost to the world if the Axis won.

2. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points. The world situation got us into this war. With the continued help of our allies we shall win it.

3. If you checked YES, give yourself 10 points. The world is so interdependent that depression in any significant part of the world hurts the United States. Prosperous nations are our best customers.

4. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points. The world has passed the stage when a single nation's armaments can keep war from its shores.

5. If you checked YES, give yourself 10 points.

If Congress repudiates the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program, it serves notice on the world that we cannot be counted upon for economic cooperation, without which a prosperous and enduring peace would be impossible.

6. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points.

Everything we send our allies is working for us. If we send them second-best arms and food it will be harder on us in the long run.

7. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points.

This statement expresses the attitude of all the world's dictators.

8. If you checked NO, give yourself 10 points.

We want to sell goods abroad. People can't buy from us unless they can sell.

9. If you checked YES, give yourself 10 points.

It is the joint responsibility of all peace-loving nations to see that aggression does not rise again.

10. If you checked YES, give yourself 10 points.

We are fighting so that men who are free can keep their freedom, that those who have lost their freedom can regain it, and that those who have never had freedom may have it.

If you made less than 100, you haven't passed, according to the rules of this game. If you made 100, you recognize the tragic, mistaken thinking that paved the way for the present war and will produce another unless it is corrected. You realize that the freedom and security of the United States are vitally affected by the fate of the other peoples of the world. . . . You are aware that freer exchange of goods between nations is indispensable in a reconstructed world, because trade is the life blood of production and employment.

PRIVATE TUSCHER IS NOW PRISONER OF WAR

Private Joseph W. Tuscher of 301 Lexington st., Auburndale, reported as missing in action in the Philippines 10 months ago is alive and is a prisoner of war according to a message received on Monday by his mother from the headquarters of the United States Marine Corps.

The message read: "A partial list of American prisoners of war in the Manila Bay area has just been received from the International Red Cross containing the name of your son, Private Joseph W. Tuscher, United States Marine Corps, confirming the fact that he is alive and a prisoner of war."

Private Tuscher enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps in October 1940 at Houston, Texas, after leaving Oglethorpe University in Georgia, where he was a student. After spending 6 months in training at San Diego, California, he was sent to the Philippines. The last letter received from him was from Marivales, Bataan.

His mother has held hope that he might be alive as during World War I, her brother, Amos W. Oldfield who now resides at 72 Freeman st., Auburndale, was reported as killed in action in France and later was found to be alive.

Private Tuscher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tuscher. His father is now on the way to Alaska on government business. They have two other sons in the armed forces, Lieut. Francis Tuscher with the Army Air Forces at Orlando, Fla., and Sergt. Vincent Tuscher who has been assigned to an Officer Training School at Camp Benning, Georgia, and is at present home on a furlough.

The orchestra contracted to play for the occasion is one certain to meet with the exacting demands of both "waltz devotees" and "titterbugs."

It has been featured at many New England College dances. Those who have attended any of the Boston College Football dances in the past two years know well the ability of this featured musical organization. Some of the best arrangements that have been heard in a long time are one of the outstanding features of the band.

The orchestra has been well received at Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Radcliffe, Wellesley, Emmanuel, Smith, Dartmouth, Boston University and many of the local High School and College Fraternities and Sororities.

The featured vocal st. Lee Nash, a Brighton girl, star of many Goodwill productions will sing many of the popular songs of the day. Indications point to the fact that a large gathering will be at each dance, as the Ballroom has been made into one of the finest in the
